

B.C. Advocates Canada Admit No Orientals

Pattullo Also Asks Ottawa For Alaska Highway Sanction

Sees Cabinet

OTTAWA (CP)—Two main proposals were placed before the federal government today by a British Columbia government delegation headed by Premier T. D. Pattullo.

These were:

Complete stoppage of Oriental immigration into Canada.

Federal sanction for the building of the Yukon section of the proposed highway to link the United States with Alaska.

At the meeting in the cabinet council room, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Resources was flanked by Hon. Ian MacKenzie, Minister of Defence; Hon. J. E. Michaud, Minister of Fisheries; Hon. J. L. Halsey, Minister of Revenue; and Hon. N. Rogers, Minister of Labor, and Mr. Pattullo by four of his ministers, Hon. John Hart, Finance and Industries; Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, Hon. George M. Weir, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education, and Hon. George S. Pearson, Mines, Labor and Fisheries.

Bren Gun Probe Is Resumed

Permission Sought From Britain to Produce Documents on Contract

OTTAWA (CP)—Permission has not yet been obtained from the British government for the use of certain documents at the inquiry here into the Bren machine gun contract between the Canadian Government and the John Inglis Company of Toronto.

Hon. J. L. Ralston, commission counsel, said at the resumption of the probe today.

The documents related to the manufacture of Bren guns. Mr. Ralston said he was not at liberty to disclose the cable reply received yesterday for the British Government in answer to a request for permission to use the documents, but it had been decided to send a further request to the British Government.

Published statements by Lieut. Col. George A. Drew, Toronto lawyer whose magazine article criticizing the contract led to the inquiry, were filed with the commission, headed by Mr. Justice H. H. Davis of the Supreme Court of Canada. The inquiry was opened today after a week's adjournment.

The commissioner's instructions are to study all details of the contract under which the Inglis Company is to make 7,000 light machine guns for the Department of National Defence.

ENGINEER HEARD

Lieut. M. P. Jolly, ordnance mechanical engineer in the Department of National Defence, was the first witness. He said he had been sent to England to study the production of small arms, including pistols, rifles and machine guns.

During his stay at the government factory at Enfield, England, Mr. Jolly said, plans and preparations were being made for the manufacture of Bren guns.

U.S. RAIL MEN VOTE TO STRIKE

Decide to Quit Next Saturday If Wage Reduction Enforced

CHICAGO (AP)—President A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen today informed H. A. Enoch, chairman of the railroad management conference committee, and William M. Leiserson, chairman of the National Mediation Board, that the brotherhood had voted to strike at 12:01 a.m. Saturday, October 1.

The dispute was about a general wage cut announced by the companies recently. One million rail workers are involved.

MORE VICTIMS OF STORM FOUND

Rehabilitation Plan For U.S. Hurricane-Stricken Area As Deaths Reach 471

BOSTON (AP)—As a rehabilitation program was mapped for the hurricane-stricken New England states, relief workers today brought the total identified dead to 471 through discovery of more bodies in the storm area.

Harry L. Hopkins, United States Works Progress administrator, said all storm projects would be put on an emergency basis, with all ordinary regulations waived and no limit placed on hours of work.

Authorities estimated property damage in Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Vermont, and New Hampshire at about $200,000,000, and the latest toll of death by states stood:

Rhode Island 257, Massachusetts 128, Connecticut 68, New Hampshire 13, Vermont 5.

That list included only identified dead and it appeared probable the final toll would be more than 500. Bodies still were being recovered, particularly in Rhode Island.

Edward H. Blake Succumbs at Bali

TORONTO (CP)—Edward Hume Blake, 48, member of a well-known Toronto family, died yesterday while swimming at Bali, Dutch East Indies, relatives were informed today. A post-mortem showed death due to a heart attack.

Mr. Blake, grandson of Hon. Edward Blake, early Canadian political leader, was returning home from the conference of the Institute of International Affairs in Australia.

U.S. STUDYING EUROPE'S MOVES

Special Cabinet Meeting Called By Roosevelt For Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt decided today to hold a special cabinet meeting tomorrow to consider the crisis in Europe.

White House aides said the cabinet session had been moved up from Friday to Tuesday because of conditions abroad.

The president, they added, was keeping in touch with reports from Europe as they came in, minute by minute.

Purpose of the cabinet meeting, reporters were given to understand, was to consider further the possible effect the European situation might have on the United States—but not to study the possibility of America's stepping into foreign troubles.

Food Prices in Britain Controlled

LONDON (AP)—At the request of the Food Defence Plans Committee produce exchanges throughout Great Britain today agreed to hold down the prices of bacon, ham, butter, cheese, lard, cooking fats and margarine to their present levels for two weeks.

Czechs Seize Poles' Radios

WARSAW (AP)—Polish refugees from Czechoslovakia today reported the Czechoslovak government had ordered Poles in three districts of Silesia to turn their radio sets over to the government within 24 hours.

These reports said a secret Polish broadcasting station had been appealing to Poles living in Czechoslovakia to start an uprising against the Prague government.

Britain, Russia, France Pledged to Fight Hitler If He Carries Out Czech Invasion

Crowds in City Hear Hitler

Gather on Street Corners and Offices for Radio Broadcasts

Hundreds in Victoria today heard Adolf Hitler's speech to the German people and the world, assembling at radios in their homes, on street corners, in offices, motor cars—wherever a radio could be tuned in.

Reception was clear, Hitler's voice could be plainly heard, as well as the roars of the crowd he addressed in Berlin's vast Palace of Sport.

Many offices rented radios from dealers and staffs alternated duties to listen to the German Chancellor and the announcer who interpreted highlights of his speech as he delivered it.

Atmosphere in Victoria when Hitler commenced to speak was tense and there were few comments from the listeners. As he proceeded, however, and there was no mention of an immediate German move, Victorians relaxed a little and commented on the remarks they picked up from 7,000 miles away.

Crowds all morning read bulletins on the Times windows which were changed as news came over the wires. Some persons came back to the bulletin every half hour or so to keep up with the fast moving events in Europe. Times telephones were continually busy with persons asking for latest developments.

TRAIN CRASH IN SPAIN KILLS 65

More Than 100 Injured In Passenger Cars 15 Miles From Barcelona

BARCELONA, Spain (AP)—A death list of at least 65 persons was feared today in a head-on collision between two passenger trains.

The wreck destroyed four coaches and badly damaged two others. It occurred in a heavy rainstorm last night about 15 miles west of Barcelona.

Survivors helped extricate 120 injured, 12 of whom died before they reached hospitals.

List Closes Friday

Those wishing to enjoy the civic franchise and who are required to register their names on the current voters' list, are advised they have until Friday afternoon at 5 in which to appear before the registrar at the City Hall.

Not Yielding, Says Hitler

BERLIN (AP)—Adolf Hitler declared tonight "I have decided that we shall place the Sudeten region of Czechoslovakia under German sovereignty," and added that if President Benes "does not want peace we will have to take matters into our own hands."

The leader of Germany told a cheering throng in the Sportsplatz the memorandum he handed Prime Minister Chamberlain at Godesberg Friday "is the last and final one."

He asserted, however, it was "nothing but what Benes promised" in the Prague government's acceptance September 21 of the first Anglo-French plan.

Further he asserted "the final outlining of the border" between Germany and Czechoslovakia "I gladly give to the citizens there," using the precedent of the Saar region for a plebiscite.

Hitler ended his address "to the entire Reich" at 9:34 p.m. (12:34 p.m. P.S.T.). He had spoken an hour and 13 minutes.

Germany and Italy "will stand together and be able to defend themselves as a solid bloc if the worst comes to the worst," Hitler said.

The leader of Germany declared to a throng in the huge hall that his demands on Czechoslovakia were "the last territorial claim I have to make in Europe, but added ominously this was "a claim I will not give up."

As the Fuehrer reached this part of his address his voice rose to a higher pitch and his words came faster.

He declared "I wanted to secure durable peace with Britain," but then voiced his dissatisfaction with the Anglo-German naval treaty limiting German seapower.

He said he saw no reason why France and Germany could not "live peacefully side by side."

"We want nothing from France; nothing whatever."

In the Sudeten issue, the Fuehrer declared to the cheering throng before him, "We now stand confronted with the last and final problem, which has to be solved and will be solved."

This declaration followed a review of his relations with the principal European powers.

Earlier he had told his countrymen Germany had "an armed force the like of which the world has never seen."

GREETED WITH CHEERS

Hitler entered the huge Sportsplatz at 8:05 p.m. (11:05 a.m. P.S.T.) to make his address scheduled as "to the entire Reich." He was cheered thunderously by the great throng.

The national anthem and the Badenweiler march were played. Volleys of frenzied "Sieg Heils" lasted for fully 10 minutes.

The Reichsfuehrer was introduced by Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels.

Speaking chords chanted: "One people! One Reich! One Fuehrer!"

"In this historic hour," Goebbels said, "the German people are unitedly gathered around the Fuehrer."

Goebbels continued, addressing Hitler:

"Just as the entire people rely upon you, so it stands as one man behind you. No threat or pressure can make you yield."

Hitler began speaking at 8:21 p.m. (11:21 a.m. P.S.T.), saying: "German fellow men and women:

"I addressed the Reichstag February 22, and again addressed the Reichspart (the Nazi party) convention at Nuremberg, when I made clear to the world that no longer is a Fuehrer or a man speaking, but the German people."

Long applause greeted this introduction.

CLAIMS UNITY

"Many other statesmen test whether there is such unity among their people as here," Hitler continued.

"The question that moves us most deeply is known to everybody. It is not so much Czechoslovakia; it is the name of (President Eduard) Benes."

"In this name thus mentioned is all that which moves millions, which either causes them to detest or fills them with a fanatical will."

Declaring Germany now had an "armed force the like of which the world has never seen," Hitler declared he had been forced into this because other nations had refused his proposals for disarmament.

"I followed a practical policy of peace. I tackled all sorts of difficult problems even to the point of renouncing things dear to us."

"The most difficult problem was the German-Polish question. Here was danger of hysteria. I was determined to avoid this."

"I know I could never have succeeded had there been democracy instead of a man at the helm in Poland."

"We are all convinced that agreement brings about constant appeasement. We recognize that 33,000,000 will always live and that nation needs an outlet to the sea."

"It was a great deed for peace I did and this is more important than all the jabbering at Geneva."

"Other nations, too, tried to bring about good, durable relations to insure the inviolability of borders touching ours."

British M.P.'s Summoned

LONDON (AP)—Parliament will meet Wednesday, it was announced officially today.

Rt. Hon. Edward A. Fitzroy, Speaker, issued the notice shortly before 2 p.m. (5 a.m. P.S.T.). The House of Commons will meet at 2:45 p.m. and the House of Lords at 4:15 p.m. on Wednesday.

War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha today called out officers and men of the anti-aircraft and coast defence units of the British Territorial Army.

This is a reserve force charged with manning all anti-aircraft guns, searchlights and air defences.

All regular Royal Air Force men on leave and Royal Air Force observation corps also were called.

Authorities stressed that both measures were purely precautionary and did not constitute mobilization.

Royal Air Force precautions also included institution of an air raid warning system.

Ready to Evacuate Paris

PARIS (AP)—The Ministry of Public Works "because of circumstances" today called on all persons who were ready to do so to evacuate Paris by rail.

The Communiqué invited the people "to use the railway facilities which are now guaranteed to them."

The ministry announced all necessary measures had been taken by the railways to evacuate the civilian population of the capital if the European crisis should develop into war.

"All measures have been taken to cope with the increasing outflow of persons toward the provinces," said The Communiqué.

Canada Not Committed

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON — It was stated officially today that Canada has not been asked for any commitments by the British Government as a result of the crisis over Czechoslovakia.

Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to London, with representatives of the other Dominions, were requested to call at Prime Minister Chamberlain's official residence at 10 Downing Street at 7 p.m. (10 a.m. P.S.T.).

This is the first time the Prime Minister has found it necessary to consult with Dominion diplomatic representatives during the period of alarm over Germany's demands in Czechoslovakia.

Official government sources informed the Canadian Press that Ottawa has been kept fully posted on the Czech crisis but at no time has advice been sought.

Will Fly Britons Out

LONDON (CPHavas)—A giant transport plane of Imperial Airways was held in readiness at Croydon airport today to go to Prague to evacuate British subjects.

Air connections between Great Britain and Czechoslovakia are maintained in a limited way only by the Netherlands and Belgian lines.

TENSION IN BELGIUM

BRUSSELS (AP)—Alarm prevailed in parts of Belgium—overrun by Germany in the Great War as the government took precautionary defence steps today along with other tense European nations.

It was understood approximately 4,400 men, mostly engineers among the reserves, were called to the colors.

Requisitioning of trucks and private cars at Ostend, Brussels and Tournai caused alarm among the people.

Roosevelt Makes Appeal for Peace

Sends Message to Hitler, Benes, Chamberlain and Daladier

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt, speaking in the name of 130,000,000 citizens of the United States appealed today to Chancellor Hitler and President Benes of Czechoslovakia to keep the peace.

His message dispatched in the early morning hours directly to Hitler and Benes and through Secretary of State Cordell Hull to Prime Minister Chamberlain and Premier Daladier of France, earnestly asked them "not to break off negotiations looking to a peaceful, fair and constructive settlement of the question at issue."

The U.S. ambassadors in Poland and Hungary also were instructed to present copies to those governments.

Mr. Roosevelt's message said: "The fabric of peace on the continent of Europe, if not throughout the rest of the world, is in immediate danger. The consequences of its rupture are incalculable. Should hostilities break out the lives of millions of men, women and children in every country involved will most certainly be lost under circumstances of unspeakable horror."

"The economic system of every country involved is certain to be shattered. The social structure of every country involved may well be completely wrecked."

NO U.S. HATREDS

"The United States has no political entanglements. It is caught in no mesh of hatred. Elements of all Europe have formed its civilization."

"The supreme desire of the American people is to live in peace."

London Reports Hitler Warned of Triple Allied Front

CLIMAX SATURDAY

LONDON (AP)—Britain made it clear tonight Great Britain and Russia would join France in a triple fight to aid Czechoslovakia in the event of a German invasion.

A statement to that effect came from a highly authoritative source at 9:20 p.m. (12:20 p.m. P.S.T.), while Adolf Hitler in a speech to the German nation was demanding the cession of the Sudeten area to Germany before next Saturday.

It was understood a warning of the triple front was conveyed to Hitler by Sir Horace Wilson, special British emissary, three hours before the Fuehrer began his speech to tell the world he had made his last offer on the Czechoslovak question.

NEGOTIATIONS

The statement said: "It is stated in official quarters that during the last week Prime Minister Chamberlain has tried with the German Chancellor to find a way of settling peacefully the Czechoslovak question."

"It is still possible to do so by negotiation."

"Germany's claim to transfer of the Sudeten areas has already been conceded by the French, British and Czechoslovak governments."

"But if, in spite of all efforts made by the British Prime Minister, a German attack is made on Czechoslovakia, the immediate result must be that France will be bound to come to her assistance and Great Britain and Russia will stand by France."

"It is still not too late to stop this great tragedy and for the peoples of all nations to insist on settlement by free negotiation."

MESSAGE TO HITLER

BERLIN — Chancellor Hitler today received from a special British envoy Prime Minister Chamberlain's "personal communication" sent him in an effort to forestall a European war.

Sir Horace Wilson, the emissary who had flown from London, handed the communication to Hitler in a brief meeting at the chancellery.

Sir Horace, accompanied by Sir Neville Henderson, the British ambassador, entered the chancellery at 5 p.m. (8 a.m. P.S.T.), and three quarters of an hour later returned to the British embassy.

The communication, which had the approval of Premier Edouard Daladier of France, was believed in German official circles to be a second Anglo-French plan for preventing war over Czechoslovakia.

The meeting at the chancellery came just three hours before Hitler's scheduled address "to the entire Reich," which began at 8:21 p.m. in Berlin's huge Sportsplatz.

U.S. People Advised To Leave France

Embassy in Paris Suggests Travelers Move Quickly Toward Home

PARIS (AP)—The U.S. Embassy in Paris today advised all American citizens to return to the United States, if they were able to do so.

Amid the darkest war clouds of many days, the Embassy notice said:

"The American Embassy today is addressing the following notice to American citizens residing in France:

"In view of the complicated situation prevailing in Europe it is considered advisable to recommend American citizens who have no compelling reasons to continue their sojourn here arrange to return to the United States."

United States citizens already have begun the exodus.

Steamship lines of neutral countries running vessels from France to the United States said they had a rush of applications for passage.

Travel agencies were swamped with persons investigating sailing facilities.

France Calls Out More Reservists

PARIS (AP)—France called more reservists to the colors today, swelling the army of approximately 2,000,000 men already under arms.

Many of the reservists being mobilized now are aged grey-haired men, assigned to guard duty at bridges and railway stations. Train loads of troops continued to leave Paris and other eastern cities for the German frontier.

Czechoslovakia, M. Benes said, "is profoundly convinced you that in the end war solves no problem and that it is a case in which reason, a sense of humanity and the principle of justice should triumph."

President Benes was the third favorable reply received at the White House, the others coming from Britain and France.

REPLIES TO ROOSEVELT — President Eduard Benes (above), of Czechoslovakia, answering President Roosevelt's appeal for peace today, declared his country would defend itself if attacked.

Hitler Tells Why He Armed

Had Offered Disarmament But It Was Refused, He Says

SPORTSPALAST, Berlin (AP)—Chancellor Hitler tonight told the German people why he had built up the huge German army. "We are not interested in oppressing other peoples," he declared in the address he broadcast from the Sportpalast. "We want to be happy in our own fashion.

"Our foreign aims are not unlimited or changeable or determined by chance.

"Their sole purpose is to be of service to the German people to safeguard their existence.

"You know that weak Germany was cheated badly. The result was the Versailles Treaty with all its terrible consequences.

"Although Germany has now become strong and free, we feel no hatred of other nations.

"Only we object to international profiteers who stop at nothing to gain their ends.

"My first proposal was general disarmament to the last machine gun, provided others did the same.

"What did they do?

"They rejected it.

"My second proposal was to limit the army to 200,000 men with the same weapons as others had.

"That, too, was declined.

"Third, I offered to renounce tanks, heavy airplanes and other heavy engines of war.

"That was declined.

"I went farther. I offered a 300,000-man army for all European powers.

"It was rejected.

"They wanted to restrict our means of defence, but all in vain.

"Today we have an armed force the like of which the world has never seen.

"I offered the world to do without armaments. But when they rejected, I decided to arm.

"If they do not want to be without arms, all right.

"German people! Now you carry them!"

"I can tell you now I have spent billions right here for armaments.

"I saw to it the most modern army with the most modern weapons was established.

"We have created an air force that protects Germany against any and every attack.

"We have created an unparalleled air force and tank force in a constant effort, night and day, the last five years."

"After discussing relations with

France, Hitler declared:

"If we relinquished Alsace-Lorraine we have certainly the right to take care of the fate of 10,000,000 Germans outside our borders—that is one-quarter of France's population.

"The democracies regard a plebiscite as unnecessary and superfluous when it is likely the result will not be one they desire."

He said the Czechoslovak state began with a single lie and the father of this lie was Benes.

"Benes, after the war, said there was such a state as Czechoslovakia," Hitler declared.

This claim, he said, was not checked up by other foreign statesmen at Versailles.

ATTACKS BENES

Hitler said Czechoslovakia was not a state capable of existing by itself and in it were included 3,500,000 Germans "in order to make it a complete state."

This, he declared, was clearly against the principle of self-determination.

Hitler accused Benes of inventing "the lie of Czechoslovak nationality . . . to bolster up the slender number of his own population."

He declared: "This state was founded contrary to the right of self-determination of peoples.

"I feel deeply for Hungarians, Poles, Slovaks and Ruthenes, but most of all I am a speaker only for Germans."

"When Mr. Benes lied his state together (put his state together on a basis of lies) he promised to divide it into cantons."

"Instead he began a reign of terror."

"He tried to exterminate Germans. Six hundred thousand of them left Czechoslovakia in the course of years as otherwise they would have had to starve."

This utterance brought forth a chorus of "pfui!"

 Reported Part of Plan

By J. F. SANDERSON
 Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON (CP-Havas) — Following is the text of Chancellor Hitler's memorandum handed to Prime Minister Chamberlain at Godesberg and transmitted to the Czechoslovak government, as disclosed by authoritative sources in London:

Reports increasing in number from hour to hour regarding incidents in Sudetenland show that the situation has become completely intolerable for the Sudeten German people and in consequence a danger to the peace of Europe.

It is therefore essential that the separation of Sudetenland agreed to by the Czechoslovak government should be effected without any further delay.

On the attached map the Sudeten German area which is to be ceded is shaded in red. Areas in which a plebiscite is also to be held, over and above the areas to be occupied, are drawn in and shaded green.

The final delimitation of the frontier must correspond to the wishes of those concerned. In order to determine these wishes a certain period is necessary for preparation of the plebiscite during which disturbances must be prevented.

A situation of parity must be created. The area designated on the attached map as German area is to be occupied by German troops, without taking into account whether in the plebiscite they may prove to be in this or that part of an area with a Czech majority.

On the other hand, Czech territory is to be occupied by Czech troops without taking into account whether within this area there lie large German language islands in which in a plebiscite a majority will without doubt give expression to its German national feeling.

TROOP WITHDRAWAL

With a view to bringing about an immediate and final solution of the Sudeten-German problem the following proposals are submitted by the German government:

1. Withdrawal of the whole Czech armed forces, police, gendarmerie, customs officials and frontier guards from the area to be evacuated as designated on the attached map. This area is to be handed over to Germany on October 1.

2. The evacuated territory is to be handed over in its present condition—see further detail in appendix. The German government agrees that a plenipotentiary representative of the Czech government and the Czech army should be attached to the headquarters of the German military forces to deal with details of modalities (means of making effective) of the evacuation.

3. The Czech government to discharge at once all Sudeten Germans serving in the military forces or police anywhere in Czech state territory and permit them to return home.

Consecrate New Catholic Church

COURTENAY — The new Roman Catholic Church of Canadian Martyrs was consecrated yesterday afternoon by Bishop J. C. Cody of Victoria, assisted by Monsignor R. Beaton, Father A. J. McLellan, Ladysmith; Father L. McLellan, Nanaimo; Father W. G. Smith, Port Alberni; Father John Knox, Mission; Father Penfold, the Bishop's secretary, and Father C. T. Albury, priest for the parish.

A congregation of 350, including Mayor M. S. Stephens, aldermen and civic officials, were in attendance. At the reception which followed the consecration and solemn pontifical benediction of the blessed sacrament, tributes were paid to W. Hagarty, contractor for the building of the church, and to the congregation which worked so hard to raise funds for the erection of the edifice which has a seating capacity of 340. Mass for the feast of the Canadian Martyrs was said in the church this morning.

Charge Follows Clash on Ship

POWELL RIVER, B.C. (CP)—Three Vancouver men are in hospital here with injuries suffered allegedly when they were beaten by five men in the smoking room of a steamship en route to nearby Blubber Bay Saturday night.

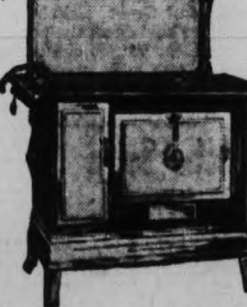

E. A. McLennan, member of the International Woodworkers of America who are staging a strike at the Blubber Bay plant of the Pacific Lime Company, was arrested and sent to Vancouver to answer a charge of committing grievous bodily harm. He was scheduled to appear there today.

Those in hospital are H. Greig, who suffered neck injuries; S. McWhinnie, with back injuries; and A. Dawson, being treated for bruises.

Only a week ago, a Blubber Bay labor fracas sent a dozen men to hospital and resulted in the arrest of a score of others on charges of inciting to riot or unlawful assembly.

Powell River is about 90 miles north of Vancouver on the mainland and about 10 miles from Texada Island in the Strait of Georgia, where Blubber Bay is situated.

Two Killed in Train-Auto Crash

MAPLE CREEK, Sask. (CP)—Alex Gold, 47, and his sister, Mrs. C. Butler, 60, were killed almost instantly Sunday when their automobile was struck by Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train No. 3 on the railway crossing a quarter mile east of Maple Creek.

Engineer Harry Cove of Medicine Hat said he saw no lights of the car at the crossing, although he felt the impact when the train crashed into the car. When Conductor J. Gould of Moose Jaw returned to the crossing he found the two bodies lying near the wrecked car.

It is believed Mr. Gold had trouble with the car at the crossing, as a short time before it had stalled twice.

Maitland New Leader

Vancouver Man Chosen Over Herbert Anscomb by Provincial Conservative Party, and Platform Approved

KAMLOOPS (CP)—The British Columbia Conservative Party began a new year today, under the leadership of Royal Ledingham Maitland, K.C., of Vancouver, having reaffirmed its agreement with the policies it placed before the electorate in the provincial general election last year.

Mr. Maitland, former minister without portfolio in the British Columbia cabinet, and now member for Vancouver-Point Grey riding, defeated Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P. of Victoria, by a scant majority of 16 votes. Mr. Maitland polled 269 votes, compared with 253 for his only opponent, who has been prominent in municipal and provincial government affairs for many years.

The election was not completed until early Sunday morning, and the convention, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, thus entered its third day.

The leadership election was the only business in which delegates from all over the province showed intense interest. The party had been leaderless since the death last February of Dr. Frank P. Patterson of Vancouver.

John H. Morgan of New Westminster was re-elected president of the provincial party by acclamation after Mayor T. A. Love of Grand Forks, B.C., had withdrawn his name after nomination.

Delegates spent most of their time voting their confidence in the manifesto drawn up for the 1937 election by Dr. Patterson. The platform was drafted without a convention being held. They also approved in principle a seven-point program submitted for consideration by the Conservative Action Club, composed of younger members of the party, which was intended to form a compact statement of Conservative policy in the province.

UNEMPLOYMENT

However, Dr. Patterson's manifesto contained no reference to unemployment. The convention here pledged the party to attempt to solve the unemployment problem by such means as establishment of youth training centres, replacement of the present system of unemployment relief by a progressive public works program that would include road building and reforestation.

Neither did it mention the labor problem, and the convention approved a resolution urging the party, if elected as government of the province, to insure the rights of workers to organize in unions of their own choosing for collective bargaining, and provide just means of settling industrial disputes.

PARTY PLATFORM

As a result of the convention, the party stands pledged to do these other things if given power at Victoria:

1. Revise completely the taxation structure of the province, taking part of the burden off land and thus "stimulate farm and home ownership and revive building activity."
2. Attempt to make arrangement with the Dominion Government so "income tax would be collected by one authority only—not by both province and Dominion as at present."
3. Consult with other public bodies with a view to eliminating extravagant taxation as far as possible, though not so far as to make balanced budgets impossible.
4. Endeavor to institute state health insurance "on a basis which is actually sound; and press for Dominion institution of national unemployment and retirement insurance."
5. Stop Oriental immigration if possible through repeal of the Gentlemen's Agreement with Japan whereby 150 Japanese enter Canada each year; and oppose strongly any move to extend the franchise to Orientals.

6. Fight against proposed amalgamation of the Yukon Territory with British Columbia unless residents of the two affected areas first show they favor the move by plebiscite.

7. Endeavor to maintain and extend if possible the tariff preferences for British Columbia products sold on the United Kingdom market.

8. Remove the British Columbia civil service from government control, with continuity of tenure, and appointment and promotion by merit.

9. Bring about unity through-out Canada on a progressive agricultural policy to give the producer a fair return for his products, support selective immigration of British settlers, and virtually subsidize farmers in remote areas by assisting them to ship their goods to market.

10. Institute a forest policy on a "sustained yield" plan and start scientific research in utilization of forest products now being wasted. Also, supply assistance to lumber interests in expanding British Columbia timber markets.

11. Revise British Columbia mining regulations to further development of natural resources; assist "legitimate mining ventures"; and revise the provincial securities act to make financing of new enterprises easier.

COMMISSIONS

12—Consider the advisability of appointing a public utilities commission, and set up a provincial highways commission responsible only to the legislature.

13—Assist in bringing about amendments to the British North America Act so the Dominion Government could provide "social legislation" applicable to all provinces.

14—Simplify trades licensing systems of the province and municipalities to lighten the load on the small business man; and remove as much as possible present government interference with business.

15—Strict observance of the principles of responsible government, including preservation of the right of recourse to the courts and "return" to the principle that the people should be governed by the whole Legislature, not by the Executive Council.

The seven-point youth program, a brief summary of Conservative policy, was amalgamated with parts of the Patterson manifesto into the party platform.

MAITLAND SPEAKS

In his 15-minute speech to the delegates after his nomination for the party leadership, Mr. Maitland said it was his firm opinion the Conservative Party would win the next provincial general election.

He said he considered the highway problem was the most important of all facing British Columbia. He would endeavor to build up road systems in the Okanagan Valley, complete the southern highway across British Columbia from the coast to Alberta, connect Prince Rupert with the southern coast and expand Vancouver Island's scenic highways.

He would revise the provincial-municipal relations with a view to providing municipalities with means to reduce land taxation, and he would start a permanent reforestation program.

He said the province could not be prosperous unless the farmer made money, and he would work toward increased returns for the primary producer.

Mr. Anscomb said his first aim if elected would be to appoint a full-time paid organizer for the party in British Columbia. He urged that all candidates be nominated at least a year before any election.

"We must be a party of service," he said, pledging himself to attempt to solve the problem of British Columbia's forest industry, and maintain the credit of the province, cities and municipalities.

He would try to improve agricultural conditions and attack the problem of unemployment, provide less government interference with business and develop provincial highway systems.

Stewart Funeral in Vancouver Wednesday

VANCOUVER (CP)—A military funeral will be held at St. John's United Church here Wednesday for the late Major-General J. W. Stewart.

Captain the Rev. George Pringle and Lieut.-Col. the Rev. C. C. Owen will officiate at the service, which will take place at 3 p.m. Entombment will be in The Abbey, Ocean View Burial Park. General Stewart died at his home here Saturday.

Young Conservative Officers Named

KAMLOOPS (CP)—Younger members of the British Columbia Conservative Party had a party organization of their own today, the Provincial Young Conservatives.

R. Dunsmuir of Vancouver, was elected president of the organization when it was formed Saturday during the provincial party convention.

Other officers: Secretary, Miss Jean McLeod, Vancouver; first vice-president, Leslie Osborne, Saanich; second vice-president, Lyall Jesty, Trail; third vice-president, L. Stevens, Bralorne; treasurer, Graham Ladner, Vancouver.

Joint Security As Peace Move

Victoria Meeting Urges Premier King to Promote Democracy Pact

A resolution urging democratic nations to join in a policy of collective security as the sole means for the prevention of war by aggressor nations and the promotion of democratic peace, was forwarded to Prime Minister McKenzie King by a meeting of 600 Victorians last night.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Democratic Book Club and passage of the resolution followed an address by M. J. Coldwell, M.P. for Rosetown Biggar and national chairman of the C.C.F.

Canada should render all possible assistance in the event of Great Britain becoming involved in war but this assistance should not come through conscription, Mr. Coldwell said.

Mr. Coldwell believed Prime Minister Chamberlain had been forced into the present situation and Canada would be regarded as a belligerent nation as part of the British Empire and bound to render assistance to Britain.

The League of Nations had given the world its only hope of peace but it had been torpedoed by the great powers. He claimed the League had not failed but the statesmanship of the great powers had.

The desire in Canada was for collective security and not national rearmament. He cited the following points as being requirements for peace: a world conference to revise treaties; a re-organized League of Nations; a court of international justice and an international police force and national disarmament.

J. R. Scooby presided.

VETERANS URGED TO SUPPORT PEACE

Col. W. W. Foster, President of Canadian Legion, Speaks in Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—Colonel W. W. Foster of Vancouver, president of the Canadian Legion, told an audience here Saturday night that "civilization as we know it today deserves to perish if it launches the world knowingly into the catastrophe of another war before the dead from the last are buried."

He said reports from France stated farmers in a sector, once a part of the Great War battlefield, were still uncovering the bones of men who had died in the war but whose bodies were never recovered for proper burial.

Col. Foster made a plea for unity among ex-servicemen in moves for peace. He said: "If we could have the 20,000,000 men who fought on both sides in the Great War, speaking together with a common voice in the interests of peace what a powerful organization it would be."

"Those of us who know the true horror and uselessness of war could be of great help in preserving our countries from its awfulness."

ABERHART SEES MADNESS IN REICH

EDMONTON (CP)—Premier Aberhart of Alberta, said last night that in the present European crisis the "British, French and Russian people are being stirred by that other equally foolish concept of contractual obligation which demands its fulfillment no matter what the conditions are."

Speaking at the Edmonton Prophetic Bible Conference, the premier said "calmness and cool deliberation" were needed as the present situation in Europe looks "exceedingly bad."

He continued: "Well, the German people are being fired by that peculiar type of mad patriotism that drives them to fight if any one of the members of their race in any country does not get even more than most ordinary citizens ever have."

Credit Houses In Alberta Soon

Premier Aberhart Tells of Opening of Six Next Friday

EDMONTON (CP)—Six treasury branches, or "credit houses" operating under the Alberta Social Credit government's interim program, will be opened Friday, Premier Aberhart announced at the Edmonton Prophetic Bible Conference yesterday evening.

The premier said cabinet ministers would speak at opening ceremonies at Edmonton, Grand Prairie, Andrew, Rocky Mountain House, Killam and St. Paul.

Treasury branches operating "somewhat similar" to credit unions of eastern Canada would be established throughout the province, Mr. Aberhart stated, to "enable the people by co-operation to gain the advantage of their combined financial strength as well as their combined credit power."

"They will secure the deposit and withdrawal facilities, while at the same time they produce the benefits that come from association on a large scale," he continued.

When announcing the program Saturday, Mr. Aberhart said it was aimed at increasing purchasing power and trade and industry.

The premier last night described the plan as "the second great stage in the (Social Credit) movement."

"In the first place," he added, "we have delivered the province as a whole from the grip of the financiers by getting in the place where we can get along without borrowing. As time goes on we shall be able, with careful, business-like management, to get along not only without having to borrow, but we hope soon to start reducing our provincial debt."

"Our next problem is to lift the load from the back of our people."

Mr. Aberhart said the treasury branches would handle "the credit we are issuing in the building of roads in many northern and western constituencies where little road aid has been granted in the past. The credit is being issued on a basis of one to two—one of credit which will supply the people with groceries, clothes, lumber, etc., and, two, to apply on the unpaid tax arrears."

The premier added the scheme involved a method of increasing purchasing power by granting a bonus on goods purchased "when and if a certain proportion of them are Alberta-made goods."

The program will prevent "a great quantity of money from being taken out of our province," he continued.

FOR PRODUCERS

"Furthermore, by our scheme by co-operation it will be possible to enable the producers to get from 1 to 3 per cent of their grain, cattle, hogs, etc., according to the extent to which they take advantage of the benefits provided."

He added:

"In lieu of paying interest to outside institutions amounting to at least 3 per cent, and often more than that, the new program provides this amount will go to our own people in the form of a bonus, and bear in mind that the bonus is dependent on the increased circulation of our own goods, and this bonus, in part at least, will be covered by the exchange of our own goods instead of by money transactions."

Present Prizes At North Ward

Athletic trophies, scholarship awards and other prizes were presented to students of North Ward School in the auditorium at the close of last week by Dr. A. S. Imrie and Mrs. Barrett, a former teacher.

The awards, given after introductory remarks by W. H. Muncy, principal, included the Canadian School Cup for shooting, the Times Cup for girls' general activities, the Junior Boys' Basketball Cup, and the Senior Girls' Baseball Cup, as well as entrance certificates.

Mr. Muncy thanked the Victoria Women's Institute for the continued interest it had shown in the school, and made particular reference to the gift of a gramophone and radio combination.

Vocal selections were rendered by the students.

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada has contributed to the "fettering" of the League of Nations in its efforts to maintain peace, the League of Nations Society in Canada asserts in its message to the British Commonwealth Peace Congress, in session at Glasgow, Scotland.

It expresses belief League failures are attributable to "inadequacy of the efforts of League supporters rather than to inadequacy of the League idea" and says a general war may yet be averted.

Desire Classes For Apprentices

In the hope of securing evening technical classes for apprentices in the different building trades, the local plumbing board of examiners will make a representation to the Provincial government in the near future along those lines, D. K. Kennedy, city building inspector, announced following a meeting of the board on Saturday.

The apprenticeship system will be discussed at a future meeting of the board, the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, Victoria Builders' Exchange Limited and the Architectural Institute of British Columbia.

Henceforth, the board of examiners will meet on the last Saturday of each month.

Fateful Days

SO QUICKLY HAVE EVENTS MOVED IN the last two weeks—especially since Prime Minister Chamberlain's visit to Reichsfuehrer Hitler at Godesberg—that by the time this is read the whole European scene may have completely changed again for better or for worse. As this is written the head of the Nazi-Teuton state is digesting a new communication upon whose contents the governments of Great Britain and France agreed in London yesterday. He had ample time to consider it, together with the pronouncement by President Roosevelt at Washington, before he delivered his speech in Berlin this evening. And it also is to be presumed that today's comments in most of the leading newspapers of Britain were summarized for him. Their inferences were sufficiently plain for all to understand.

Out of all that has taken place since the initial conversations between Mr. Chamberlain and Herr Hitler at Berchtesgaden, a little more than a week ago, one unmistakable fact stands out above all others: The head of the Nazi state has demanded that he be allowed to get a military foothold in Czechoslovakia so that he will be the better able to proceed with his obvious scheme of complete annexation—gradual or otherwise—by such means as the march of events, which he wants to control, may afford from time to time. Great Britain and France succeeded in persuading the government at Prague to agree to the Fuehrer's demand for the cession of Sudetenland; but not even a Chamberlain expected a nation with a modicum of national pride to swallow the "final plan" which sets October 1 as the time limit of Germany's willingness to restrain herself.

Added to a plethora of polemics, therefore, is the stark fact that Europe is placing itself on a war footing with feverish haste. (If and when the "crisis" shall have passed it may be that Hitler helped, wittingly or otherwise, to save the peace by giving the supposedly democratic governments time to complete their preparations for war.) In many ways conditions are similar to those obtaining in the summer of 1914. The impossible provisions of Austria's ultimatum to Serbia prepared the stage for the Great War. But many aspects of the present state of affairs are vastly different. Hohenzollern Germany possessed all the "properties" she considered requisite for the production of a gigantic transformation scene. Her dream was a "place in the sun"—with the philosophy of Bernhardi as her textbook. Hitler's "Mein Kampf" reflects the aspirations of the modern megalomaniac. They will be realized or frustrated, however, according to the conduct of what we fondly believe to be operative democracy. This time that democracy is ready. Its duty is plain: now that it was when Japan revived despotism by invading Manchuria.

No surplus imagination is necessary to understand that the combined moral right of all the friends of little but brave and honest Czechoslovakia should and can be applied now and at any time for cause. That cause has been an open book ever since Reichsfuehrer Hitler seized upon the idea of press-agenting the "persecution" of the Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia to provide what he regarded as sufficient justification for attempting to repeat in that war-born republic the type of political rape which served him well in woefully vulnerable Austria. Give him a foothold, politically and militarily, in what territory it is proposed shall be left to the smaller neighbor, and Europe will be laying up for herself troubles of so serious a nature as to baffle the most vivid imagination of these times.

There can be only one solution for the present situation. The world will have to take stock of itself. It will have to be sure that even those countries, as at present governed, which still stand between the despot and his insatiable ambitions are in their heart of hearts determined to strip themselves of the national and personal greed and double-dealing of which there already has been so much evidence. Stripped of all its verbal embroidery and outworn diplomatic usage, the nations of the world must make up their minds to become honest and decent—and stay that way. Public opinion in sufficient volume can force the pace, compel governments to do the bidding of the common people, whose servants governments must be if real democracy is to prevail.

Wants Russia Included

IT HAS REMAINED FOR MR. WINSTON Churchill, one of Great Britain's most colorful parliamentarians and publicists, to suggest that Russia be included in any dealings with Germany by the British and French governments. He said in part this morning:

"A solemn warning should be presented to the German government in joint or simultaneous notes by Britain, France and Russia, that an invasion of Czechoslovakia at the present juncture would be taken as an act of war against these powers."

Mr. Churchill, of course, is not associated with any pro-Fascist coterie. As an unblinking exponent of the art of mind-changing—goodness knows recent times have demanded some new form of mental agility—however, he does not gaze in bewilderment at the person who may not see eye to eye with him. He is not yet, nor likely to be, swayed by the convenient conviction that the desire and capacity to think are social and political errors which should be shunned by the "best people."

Those who look down their noses at the great country which is attending strictly to its own affairs may yet see the spectacle of a so-called bewhiskered devil incarnate stiffening the forces of morality. As a propagandist, Stalin is an indifferent amateur compared with Reichsfuehrer Hitler of Berchtesgaden and Godesberg.

A Majority Problem

TOWARD THE END OF LAST MONTH Poland celebrated her annual "Peasants' Day." More than 100,000 of her rural citizens took part. Unlike last year, however, there were no disorders. The toll in 1937 was 42 persons killed and 2,000 arrested. But if the recent jollifications were orderly there was no weakening in their demand that their former leader, M. Witos, should be allowed to return with safety to Poland. Eight years ago he went into exile to escape imprisonment for his political activities in opposition to the late dictator Marshal Pilsudski.

Although the rural population of Poland constitutes 63 per cent of the total, the peasants have no representative in Parliament and no influence with the government. In fact, at the last general election the Peasants' Populist Party was suppressed, and its leader was then an exile. Still, the government cannot, in times like these, afford to ignore the demands of so large a section of the people. Early in the summer President Moscicki promised that clemency would be shown to M. Witos if he returned, but this was too vague to satisfy him and his supporters. At another time the demands of the peasants might be ignored, but now the position of Poland, as we suggested in these columns the other day, has suddenly become extremely critical in view of the latest developments in Czechoslovakia.

It is common knowledge, of course, that there is no love lost between the Poles and the Czechs, but the former naturally are realizing that now Germany wants to perform the initial dissection of their neighbors' territory it will only be a matter of time before their own turn comes to share the same fate. Indeed, the Polish government is fully aware of the extensive sinister activities started by the German Nazis among the Ukrainians in Poland. Germany, it is well known, has long had her eye on the whole Ukraine, both Polish and Russian. In the circumstances the necessity for political agreement and unity in Poland must be apparent.

Tipping Under Control

TIPPING FOR SERVICE HAS BEEN A variety of things to a variety of people in the past. To the employee it has been in many cases his sole source of income. To the tipper it has been variously an automatic habit, a gesture of liberality, or simply a source of irritation.

Wage minimums have made tipping in most instances now merely a supplement to the employee's fixed income, but a supplement in many cases with which he cannot dispense. Now in Finland tipping itself is being regulated. Two scales of minimums have been set, "geared" to the amount of the restaurant bill, one scale applying to the larger cities, the other to the small towns.

Advocates of a similar set up in this country have appeared from time to time, but a man cannot help but see a certain incongruity in a regulation being imposed on what originated as a spontaneous gesture of thanks. It would seem that the better reform might be to restore that gesture to its original state by seeing that the employee was not dependent upon it for a living.

Unseen planes dropping bombs; unseen submarines sinking ships; yet our histories speak scornfully of savages who shot from ambush.

Distribution is the big problem. Note how many people have nothing to do, and how many others are looking for a fourth to play bridge.

NEW GUARANTEES, BAH!

From Portland Oregonian
Not only would cession of territory leave Czechoslovakia wholly devoid of defensible boundaries—a flat area the German armies could overrun in a matter of hours; it also would start minority disorders throughout Europe, where minorities are the rule rather than the exception.

In one little state after another, minorities would start agitation, and hiding fire-arms, and shooting from rooftops. One after another these little states would be gobbled by their greater neighbors—the greater neighbors always repeating the sentimental claim that the little state was incapable of maintaining discipline and justice.

Minorities? They are scattered everywhere. The Encyclopedia Britannica estimates conservatively that the various peace treaties signed at the conclusion of the world left 30,000,000 people living as minorities in this European area. This in spite of the "self-determination of peoples," which the allies had used so successfully as propaganda during the course of the war, and which Woodrow Wilson had included as one of his "Fourteen points." Boundaries were shifted, and states were carved, but the overlapping was not solved. And of the 30,000,000 left under foreign flags by the peace treaties, the Sudeten Germans are only 3,500,000. When they are with Germany, 26,500,000 will remain, and will be encouraged to try their own luck.

Guarantee the new borders? In an age when force has entirely supplanted reason in international relations, there can be no guarantee except in willingness to fight.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

PULLMAN WINDOW

HOPE I SHALL never grow too old to enjoy a ride in a Pullman car. When it doesn't give me a thrill any more to lie in a Pullman and watch the world swing by outside, then I shall know that I am an old man, unfit for association with the public, and I shall stay at home, waiting to die.

The other night I lay in a Pullman racing across the interior of British Columbia, and I watched a dark, vivid backdrop of scenery such as no painter could ever conceive. There was the huge black bulk of the mountains and just below them the glistening line of the Thompson River and overhead a swarm of stars, the Big Dipper standing out so sharp and clear that you could almost grasp it by the handle and take a drink out of it. And beside the tracks, the fields of alfalfa and tomatoes spun like turning plates, and in the moonlight you could see an occasional horse or cow standing there, watching the lighted train plunge by like a mighty projectile, with a roar in the soft, warm night.

Here, looking out of the Pullman on the sleeping world, you catch a glimpse of British Columbia, and you catch a feeling of its immense size and loneliness, the roughness of it, the billowing chaos of its hills and the sweep of its empty valleys and the cleanliness and virginity of it, and the hardness and coldness and yet the friendliness of it, lying out there, quiet under the moon.

Every man should go back there into the interior sometimes and renew his faith in this land; go back to the earth and perceive the goodness of it. After you have been in the cities for a long time, your mind filled with business, and worried over the useless, worthless things that make up most of our lives, it is like walking out of a stuffy room into the clean air, when you go into the interior and see it and feel it underfoot and smell the good smell of sage brush and pine again.

Here, you feel, is a land and a people which will survive whatever happens to our brittle, cracked civilization. Here is an earth which will support human habitations and healthy people for millions of years yet, long after this civilization has been buried and forgotten. The land and the richness of it is there, lying outside the Pullman window under the stars, and will remain, unchanging, as it has lain since the beginning, and after you have seen it in the night time, you come home with a new sanity, a new feeling of security and peace in your heart. Whatever happens, the rich valleys, the great hills, the lakes and the rivers will still be there—our country, which so few of us know.

IDEAL TOWN

KELOWNA, I SHOULD SAY, is about the ideal size of human community, the kind of town that humans were meant to live in; large enough to have a fine cluster-lighted main street, a modern hotel, a beautiful little park by a lake, but small enough for every man to know his neighbor; to feel a personal interest in the town, in the little local industries that local men are running. In the packing houses, the sawmills, the winery, the radio station.

These people are happier than we are. They are far happier than the people of Vancouver or Victoria; happier and saner for they are still close to the source of all sanity, which is the soil. All the city politicians who went to the Liberal convention in Kelowna the other day felt that, felt that after the fierce tumult of the city, the rush and tear, the pressure and excitement, that here was something clean and wholesome and kind.

The other night I stood beside Okanagan Lake with a prominent British Columbia statesman on the beach at that loveliest of interior resorts, El Dorado Arms. The stars swarmed above, clearer in this dry air than we ever see them on the coast, and they danced in the calm lake, and the hills were black smudges against the sky, and you could hear a whisper through the poplars and we both felt very small there beside the lake and held our tongues until at last the statesman said: "I've just been wondering whether you could get anything in the papers about my speech to the convention about the municipal problem." I struck him down there and threw his body in the lake.

As we drove out of the valley at night, up above the glimmer of that long chain of lakes, with the lights of the farms twinkling among the black patches of the apple orchards and glistening in the water, we thought again that here, with a mad world around, was the evidence that man, the destroyer, can create, can improve the earth instead of marking it with ruin, if he finds the right environment. Behind we left the smell of ripening apples, heavy on the trees. Ahead was the smell of civilization. And it seemed symbolic to me that our car ran over a skunk and the air became charged with a strange pungency.

OUR COAST WHALES

From Canada's Weekly
Sulphur was a 76-foot whale caught by British Columbia whalers last year. As it happened, the big sulphur was the only member of its particular branch of the whale family to be among the season's catch of 317. Probably curiosity as to what other whales were doing was her downfall.

From the point of view of the whaler, the so-called sulphur is the most important species. This whale is the largest living animal—perhaps the largest ever known. It has been known to reach the length of 91 feet and weight of 140 tons. An average animal weighs about 60 tons.

In 1936 the fisheries branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported a catch of 370 whales. Whalebone meal marketed amounted to 300 tons, while fertilizer to nearly 700 tons and whale oil to 764,000 gallons.

Canada and the World Crisis

By M. J. COLDWELL, M.P.

IN 1914 NO NATION wanted war, but none of them could achieve their objective without it. Chief opponents at that time were Germany and Great Britain. Britain with her far-flung Empire and Germany with her vast industrial equipment and population, seeking outlets for her trade and commerce. To break into the Far Eastern market Germany pressed to completion the Berlin-Bagdad Railway, and allied herself with Turkey.

Rival industrialists in France and Germany looked with envious eyes upon the resources which were divided by the international boundary. In eastern France there were large deposits of iron but little coal, and in western Germany lots of coal and little iron.

Imperial Russia, which desired an outlet through the Dardanelles, found her ambition threatened by the German push towards the Far East.

Hence the two sides prepared for war, and the assassination of the heir to the Austrian throne provided the spark that set the world aflame.

The intervention of the United States in 1917 sealed the fate of the Central Powers, and the armistice was little more than a German surrender in the belief that President Wilson's 14 points would form the basis of a just and permanent peace.

FEW KNEW OF the secret treaties and understandings among the associated and allied powers, and it was on the basis of these rather than of Wilson's idealistic 14 points that the Treaty of Versailles was made. The world hoped, however, that the League Covenant would ultimately bring peace and justice, but from the outset the victorious European powers sought to use it as an instrument for their own policies.

The war settled nothing, and the resultant treaty took Germany's colonies from her, stripped her of rich coalfields, destroyed her navy and her merchant marine and inflicted an indemnity which her enemies knew she could never pay. Its object was to destroy Germany permanently as a great military and commercial power.

The Germans were frankly pacifist and urged their inclusion in the League of Nations and the disarmament of their late enemies as well as of themselves. Britain at this time, largely under the propaganda of the Labor party, did try to influence the nations along such lines, but failed.

When the second Labor Government of Britain took office in 1929 the whole economic structure of the world faced, and subsequently suffered, collapse. British financial interests which had lost heavily in German and Austrian loans, demanded the formation of a National Government, which was established under the leadership of Ramsay MacDonald in 1931.

THEN CAME THE REAL rise of Hitler and new groupings in international affairs. Italy, Japan and Germany drew closer together and rearmament began on an unprecedented scale. In the National Government of Britain has played a dangerous role. It permitted Germany to rearm, apparently hoping that it could satisfy the Fascist powers without losing any of its colonial empire.

It disliked the friendly understanding between France and Soviet Russia and apparently hoped to bring about a European balance of power by grouping France, Germany, Italy and Britain together.

In pursuance of this policy, which destroyed the League of Nations and reintroduced the old power groupings of prewar days, its policy has been one of compromise, the results of which have been a series of diplomatic defeats and the loss of prestige throughout the world.

We believe that the present situation in Europe is due to the betrayal of the League of Nations first during the Manchurian affair of 1932, when Sir John Simon actually condoned Japanese action before the League assembly.

This emboldened Mussolini, who was permitted to rape Abyssinia in spite of the preponderance of economic and even military power on the side of the League of Nations powers. The disgraceful Hoare-Laval understanding indicated to what lengths the National Government was prepared to go in order to placate Mussolini.

It was in 1935, too, that the Anglo-German naval agreement, which was itself a betrayal of the League of Nations Covenant, pledged British support for German rearmament.

In the Spanish Civil War the story is the same; the National Government actually prevented France from taking counter-measures against the support given to the rebels by Hitler and Mussolini. Again in 1937 Japan raised China, and in spite of League pronouncements Japan was allowed a free hand.

Made bold by all this, and thoroughly rearmament, Germany seized Austria, and is now threatening the integrity of the League-established nation of Czechoslovakia. This I regard as the latest development in the tragic series of events which have followed the desertion of the ideal of collective security by the National Government and the Great Powers.

IF ALL THIS could have prevented peace and strengthened democracy there might have been some justification for the policy, but in spite of the credit which we are all prepared to give to Mr. Chamberlain in his 11th hour attempt to discuss peace with Hitler, we must not lose sight of the fact that the government which he heads has brought us to the very brink of war—a war in which our very institution may be at stake.

I say this because Nazism is war; war against democracy, war against the very fundamentals of human kindness and brotherly love. It is based on the evil twin of the World War—Hate and Fear. Hitler is in power and has become so powerful that even the head of a great Empire must go to him in his mountain retreat.

Hitler's aim for the consolidation of the German-speaking people in the Reich is not in the interests of world peace, because he aims at national self-sufficiency backed by military power with an aggressive foreign policy and imperialistic aims. He has worked his people up to the pitch where to abandon these aims means loss of power and to persist in them leads to war.

The Germans as a whole do not see this. Many probably believe that Hitler is making Nazi Germany so strong that every country will fear to refuse his demands. Color has been lent to this psychology by events of the last seven years. In the initial stages of Nazi development the League of Nations could have prevented it, and if the democratic countries would stand together now the League could still prevent its further development.

Each move so far has strengthened Hitler in Germany and as a world figure. He cannot achieve his final aims except at the expense of one or more of the Great Powers, and that means war, and war with a Germany with greater economic and military resources if she is allowed to incorporate Czechoslovakia and other adjacent states within the Reich. Thus great industrial and agricultural areas would be added to give Germany a greater self-sufficiency and the domination of Europe in the interests of dictatorship and Fascism. Thus war and not peace would dominate the world.

IN THE FACE of all this the governments of the Great Powers have betrayed the League and have refused to uphold international justice when it conflicted with what appeared to be their immediate interests. In doing so the National Government of Great Britain has jeopardized both democracy and its own imperial power.

We believe that it is not too late to reorganize and revitalize the League so that it may become the determining factor for the preservation of peace and democracy.

In such a League, dedicated to peace and the removal of the economic causes of war, Canada should declare her readiness to undertake her share of responsibility.

We believe that war is not inevitable if collective peace action were taken by the democratic nations. If war breaks out Canada should determine its course of action by declaring that it will assist in the struggle against Fascism only when the governments engaged are so constituted as to guarantee to the world that democratic, not imperialistic, statesmen are directing the struggle.

In other words, we should not follow blindly those who have led us into a situation wherein the dread arbitrament of war offers the only way out. On the other hand, in a world struggle against Fascism no democratic nation could be neutral.

In any event Parliament must decide Canada's attitude in any contingencies that may arise.

GETTING ON SOUND GROUND

From North Vancouver Review
The National Council of Women is advocating sound reform, when the members ask that persons convicted of sex offences be committed to mental institutions.

Procedure in these cases does not provide any prevention for the repetition of the crime. If an individual is convicted of assaulting a young girl or boy, the court can sentence him to prison and impose lashes. That punishment might be served and expected to curb the crime.

But in so many of these cases, no amount of punishment will ever remove the cause. Sooner or later, the released offender will get the urge to commit a similar crime and he will not be able to subdue the temptation.

By committing convicted persons to mental institutions, a great step forward in social reform would be taken.

BEVERLEY BAXTER, M.P.

To the Editor:—There appeared in the Times the announcement that Beverley Baxter was resuming regular broadcasts from London. The item was worded as though every Canadian should rejoice at the good news. I did not listen in last Friday; but from his talks last spring I came to the conclusion that he was so far over to the "right" that he was in danger of slipping off the Empire altogether!

This same Mr. Baxter bitterly denounced Canon Dick Sheppard for his pacifism—a few days before the latter died suddenly. He attacked his namesake Beverley Nichols for exposing the international armament racket. And quite recently the Sunday Graphic published an article by him entitled "Why Not Try Capitalism?" in which he sneered at all opposition ideas and advocated bigger and better capitalism. Ye gods! He must be in the seventh heaven these days! Feature! "Super Capitalism in Action." Starring Mr. Chamberlain; also Herr Hitler (with tongue in cheek and great cordiality). Chorus of "cheques." Commentator: Beverley Baxter. N.B.: Show will be repeated now and then (when John Citizen gets a bit restive over armament taxation).

Why is Beverley Baxter welcomed over BBC, but Editor Ferguson of the Winnipeg Free Press padlocked?

URGES NEW CARS AND RAILS

To the Editor:—While I am in favor of buses, as I think them the fastest and quietest transportation, I would not object to street cars being continued, but would suggest the franchise committee see to the following:

1. Maintenance of centre road and putting into shape of road over which street car tracks pass, such as Cook, May, Craigflower and others.
2. Replacing of all cars with modern cars, as would be found in any other town in America.
3. Placing of new rails where necessary to ensure decent comfortable riding and also eliminating noise, the latter especially on Government Street.
4. The placing of proper service into the areas not being served at present. Under these conditions I would not oppose the carrying on of street cars.

In reference to the operators of the cars, with whom I agree that the wages are quite high, they state they have been working 25 to 40 years and still need another five to pay for their homes. If this is so, I should think at the present rate of paying they should have asked for another 20 years.

The operators also asked for preference in employment if buses should be put in. Why should they be given preference over Victoria-born boys, who would also like a steady job enough to at least be civil to the traveling public?

H. B. WHITLEY.

Parallel Thoughts

FAVORS HANGING

To the Editor:—Has it ever occurred to you that if there was ever any let-down in our death penalty there would likely be a greater number of murders? The fact that a person may be hanged has a deterring effect on all who are inclined to let their tempers or their greed get the better of them.

Just remember that as editor of your paper, it is your duty to prevent crime, and especially murder, by giving leadership to your readers in pointing out the awfulness of the penalty, and not in trying to make the end of a murder one equivalent to a bed of roses.

We don't want anyone to be murdered in Canada, and that is why we are anxious to maintain hanging as a penalty. The way some of the murders have been committed in Canada is beyond belief, and even hanging was far too good for the murderer.

I recognize and admire your Christian principles, but when it comes to a murder penalty we simply have got to keep it as a deterrent, that's the idea.

Deter them, if possible, and then don't have to hang them.
NORMAN R. WHITE, St. Williams, Norfolk County, Ont.

REMINISCENT

To the Editor:—Back in the sixties as a small boy I went to a school. Heaviest lesson was the music lesson. The master (poor man), did his best no doubt, but I did not like the subject. He used his modulator to little effect on me. I remember, however, the words we used to sing:

"Who as the brave man who—Whose arm defend the right when Right is misallied wrong? He who shrinks not from the fight

When weak contends with strong; Who fearing God fears none beside; Who does do right whate'er betide. This man has courage true!"

The music, the modulator and all else have gone, but the words remain. Today we have the weak fighting the strong in B.C.

RAILWAY ADVERTISING

From Railway Facts
From every $1,000 of passenger revenue, the Canadian Pacific Railway spent, in 1937, $42.09 in advertising. On the Canadian National, for every $1,000 of passenger revenue, the advertising expenditure was $30.61.

Better English

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "Is there any necessity for me going?"
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "hiccup, or hicough?"
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Aeronautics, algrette, affidavit.
4. What does the word "integrity" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with pro that means "an omen"?

Answers

1. Say, "Is there any necessity for my going?" 2. Pronounce hic-up, not hik-off. 3. Affidavit. 4. Uprightness of character. "His integrity is above reproach." 5. Prognostic.

WEDDINGS

MANN-WILLIS

At a quiet ceremony in Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, on September 21, Very Rev. W. R. Armytage, Dean of Westminster, officiated in marriage Mrs. R. G. Willis of Winnipeg and Mr. Anson D. Mann of Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. Mann have taken up their residence at 644 Linden Avenue.

STYAN-CRADDOCK

Announcement is made of the marriage of Edna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Craddock, 853 Princess Avenue, to Leo Styan, second son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Styan of Keating, which was quietly solemnized in Seattle, Wash., on September 13.

ROBINSON-PYNN

At St. Barnabas Church on Saturday evening, Rev. N. E. Smith united in marriage Agnes (Nancy), second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Pynn, 1170 Pembroke Street, and Mr. Harry (Scotty) Robinson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson, 2545 Wark Street.

The bride was given away by her father and wore a gown of vintage red chiffon velvet with a matching hat and veil, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia. Miss Jean Pynn was her sister's bridesmaid in a frock of green velvet and a matching hat, and she wore a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses, violets and violas. Mr. Thomas Restell was best man.

After the ceremony about 200 guests were entertained later in the Eagles' Hall, which was decorated with pale pink and white streamers, and vases of mixed flowers. The guests were received by Mrs. Pynn in a red, gotte frock of navy blue sheer, who wore a corsage spray of pink roses and bouvardia, and by Mrs. Robinson in a black and white ensemble, with roses and violas.

Dancing was enjoyed to a three-piece orchestra, and a buffet supper was served. A four-tiered cake, standing between vases of pink and white carnations, was cut by the bride, and on another table was an ice cream cake, a gift from the Palm Dairies, Ltd., where the bride had been employed.

After a honeymoon in Vancouver and Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will make their home at 916 Bay Street.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. C. Joiner and Miss Pat Joiner, Saskatoon; and Mrs. J. Smith, Mrs. H. Cook, Mr. J. McMahon and Mrs. E. J. Kendrick, all of Seattle.

EVANS-RICHARDSON

A pretty wedding took place on Saturday evening at 7.30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Richardson, Bute Street, Port Alberni, when their second daughter, Dorothy Grace, was united in marriage to Mr. John William Evans, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Owen Evans, of Port Alberni. Rev. H. C. Robinson performed the ceremony, and the bridegroom was supported by Mr. William Carson.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of sapphire blue satin, with bolero of silver lace, and silver coronet and shoes. Her bouquet was of white carnations. Miss Jessie Richardson was her sister's bridesmaid, gowned in Burgundy silk crepe, trimmed with gold accents, with coronet and shoes of gold, and wore a corsage bouquet of white carnations.

Following the service, a reception was held, Mrs. Richardson, receiving the guests, wearing a gown of brown crepe, floral pattern in shades of roses, assisted by Mrs. Evans in black georgette. Astors, snapdragons and gladioli, formed a floral background for the ceremony. Roses and lily of the valley were the decorations of the bride's table, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake.

When Mr. and Mrs. Evans left on their wedding trip to Victoria en route to Seattle, the bride wore for travel an ensemble of navy blue, with matching hat and accessories and fawn top coat. On their return they will take up residence in Calgary district, Port Alberni.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just dumps in to your bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Headaches, pinpoints go into the body, and you feel sour, mucky and the world looks pink.

A more bowel movement doesn't always get the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes three good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harshness and griping, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a natural but have no chemical or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25¢.

POLLOCK-HUTCHISON

In a pretty setting of Michaelmas daisies and goldenrod, the marriage of Mabel Maxine, third daughter of Mr. Robert Hutchison, Eilke Street, and Mr. Wilfred John Pollock, only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Pollock, Mission City, took place Saturday evening at the home of the bride's father, Rev. T. H. McAllister, officiating, in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

Mr. Hutchison gave his daughter in marriage. She was an attractive figure in a princess frock of apple-green lace with an Eton jacket, and a hi-length veil of matching net arranged beneath a coronet of rosebuds. She held an arm bouquet of Briarcliffe roses. Mrs. W. Chandler, in a frock of pale peach tulle, attended her sister, and wore a cluster of salmon-pink spectrum carnations in her hair, and held a bouquet of the same blooms. Mr. Edward Richards, Port Alberni, was best man.

Mr. Hutchison was assisted in receiving the guests by his daughter, Miss Eleanor Hutchison, Los Angeles, in a smart gown of black matelasse crepe and black doll hat, and wore a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds. The bride's cake, which was surrounded with folds of mauve tulle and vases of rosebuds, centred the supper table.

After a honeymoon in Vancouver and Mission City, Mr. and Mrs. Pollock will make their home in Port Alberni.

MACFARLANE-GREAVES

Michaelmas daisies, chrysanthemums and white gladioli were massed in St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church for the ceremony on Saturday evening which united in marriage Hilda Glen, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Greaves, Juno Street, to Mr. Alister Macfarlane, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Macfarlane, West Fifteenth Avenue, Vancouver.

Rev. Arthur Bischlager officiated and Mr. Cyril Warren played the wedding music. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely wedding gown of ivory velvet, with V-neck outlined with silk net ruffles, long tight-fitting sleeves, with self-covered buttons from neck to hemline in front, and the graceful skirt flaring to a fan-shaped train. Her filmy tulle veil fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of yellow Burney rosebuds.

Miss Dola Greaves, sister of the bride, was maid of honor in violet taffeta and the Misses Helen and Alice Parkinson and Miss Winnifred McAdams, the bridesmaids, gowned alike in turquoise blue. The frocks were made alike in princess style, with sweetheart necklines, leg o' mutton sleeves and long full skirts finished with rows of tiny pleats held in place with matching velvet ribbon and a large true velvet knot on the bodice of the gowns. All wore silver lame caps with veils, matching silver gloves and silver sandals. Miss Greaves carried a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums and pastel anthuriums, and the bridesmaids chrysanthemums in similar shades, and Talisman roses. Little Mary Carfrae, niece of the groom, was a dainty flower girl in pale orchid taffeta with matching poke bonnet, and carried a Colonial bouquet of rosebuds, pansies and violets.

Mr. Geoffrey Whitehead was groomsman and the ushers were Dr. Dimery Johnson, Mr. Huntley Miller and Mr. Roger Phillips (Vancouver).

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Macaulay Golf Club, where Mr. and Mrs. Greaves, the latter wearing a frock of dolce blue lace with jacket, and picture hat of black velvet, were assisted in receiving the many guests by Mrs. Macfarlane, in a smart gown of blue with hat en suite. Both wore corsage bouquets of roses.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by tall orchid tapers in silver candelabra and silver vases of rosebuds. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Raymond W. Kersey, Mrs. H. E. Hobson, Misses Betty Billingham, Irene McAdams, Margaret Sheppard and Kathleen Storey (Vancouver).

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Macfarlane left for California, the bride donning a nigger brown tailcoat, a topcoat of cinnamon wool with bleached wolf collar, accessories of nigger brown and a corsage bouquet of rosebuds.

NICHOLLS-MANN

At the First Baptist Church on Saturday evening, Rev. James Strachan united in marriage, Norma Evelyn, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Mann, 2709 Bridge Street, and Mr. C. Willard Nicholls, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Nicholls, 1291 Holloway Street.

The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli, chrysanthemums and dahlias. Mr. Ian Galliford was at the organ and accompanied Miss Sheila Conway, who sang, "O Promise Me" as the register was being signed.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. James Mann, and wore an Empire frock of white satin with a train and long pointed sleeves, the yoke and bodice collar being inset with embroidered net. Her embroidered veil was held in place with orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Muriel Mann was her sister's bridesmaid, in a pretty frock of chiffon, shading from rust to amber gold, who wore an amber net veil arranged beneath clusters of rust-shaded flowers and carried a sheaf of golden chrysanthemums. Mr. Leonard Nicholls supported his brother, and ushering the guests to pews tied with colonial posies were Mr. Arnold Mann and Mr. Everett Lacey.

Mr. and Mrs. Mann entertained a group of friends and relatives later at the Gleneshiel Hotel in a setting of gladioli and chrysanthemums arranged in baskets and bowls. Mrs. Mann was smartly dressed in black, and the bridegroom's mother wore a gown of periwinkle blue with navy accessories, their corsage bouquets being pink carnations. A three-tiered cake, surmounted with a vase of pink rosebuds, centred the supper table.

After a motor trip to California, for which the bride left in a hyacinth blue cape-costume and Burgundy wine accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholls will make their home on Lodge Avenue, Saanich.

Among the gifts were a mantel clock presented to the bride by the Hudson Bay Co., and a silver gravy boat and server and a cold meat fork from the department with which she was connected. A tri-lite lamp was presented to the groom from the staff of the Jubilee Hospital.

Social and Personal

Mrs. F. W. Hartley of Monterey Avenue left this afternoon for Vancouver where she will be the guest of Mrs. A. D. McRae at "Hycroft" for a few days.

Miss Esther Smith, who is to be married early next month, was the guest of honor when Miss Gertrude Bentley entertained at a cocktail party recently at her home on Fernwood Road, later taking her guests on to the Beach Hotel, Oak Bay, for tea. Those invited were Miss Esther Smith, Mrs. A. Rennie, Mrs. R. Leak (Regina), Mrs. G. G. Sutherland, Mrs. R. Blackwell (Toronto), Mrs. R. McCann and the Misses Doris Williams, Eleanor Blackburn and Mary Smith.

An enjoyable evening was spent at "Quandalia," Island Highway, September 21, on the occasion of the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark. Mr. and Mrs. Clark were presented with a crystal vase, and Mr. and Mrs. Wood received a refrigerator set. Games were played and at 12 o'clock supper was served on a beautifully arranged table, the color scheme being in green cream and pink. The table was centred with an ice cream cake. Fourteen guests were present.

In compliment to Miss Jessie Oliver, whose marriage takes place early in October to Mr. J. Kelly, a kitchen shower was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Howland, North Park Street. Upon entering the living-room the bride-elect was presented with a corsage of red carnations. The gifts were concealed in a prettily decorated blue and white box topped with a miniature model of the future bridegroom is a member. Games were enjoyed during the evening, the prize winners being Mrs. C. Oliver and Mrs. R. Willson. Later a sit-down supper was served from an attractive table arranged with white tapers in silver holders and a bowl of pink and rose chrysanthemums. The invited guests included: Mesdames C. Oliver, J. Kelly, M. Hall, N. Howland, F. Taylor, H. Earl, P. Atkinson, R. Willson and B. Blair; Misses E. Matthews, M. Oliver, S. Oliver, K. Caldwell, J. Hall, W. Oliver, I. Austin and E. Lavis.

Thorough Chilling Important

To make dainty party sandwiches—pinwheel, ribbon or blocked—after the thin slices of bread have been spread with creamed butter and filling, wrap in wax paper and chill thoroughly in the refrigerator until bread and filling appear one solid piece. They may be then sliced crosswise or lengthwise without danger of falling apart. Creamed butter spreads easily and avoids lumpiness.

St. Matthias W.A. will hold its sewing meeting on Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 at the church hall. Deaconess Simcox will speak on "The Birth of the Sunday-school-by-post Movement."

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital will be held on Wednesday afternoon at the nurses' home, at 2.30.

Clubwomen's News

Notices intended for publication in this column on Saturdays must be written and handed in to this office not later than Friday afternoon.

Mizpah Court, Order of Amaranth, will hold a poultry whist drive in the K. of P. Hall next Friday evening at 8.

The annual meeting of the Cedar Hill P.T.A. will be held at the school on Wednesday evening at 8. All interested are invited.

The W.I. Weavers' Guild will meet this evening in the headquarters, 410 Union Building. Mr. John Kyle will be the speaker, and plans will be made for the coming season's work.

Colfax Rebekah Lodge No. 1 will hold their thanksgiving service in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Douglas Street, Tuesday at 8 p.m. After the meeting a musical program will be enjoyed.

The Women's Auxiliary to the Tuberculous Veterans will hold a birthday tea in the Tuberculous Veterans' Clubrooms, 812 Blanshard Street, on Wednesday afternoon from 2.30 until 5. This tea is a silver tea, and is to commemorate the taking over of these clubrooms by the veterans, and it is hoped that any one interested will patronize this affair, sister auxiliaries especially.

Sisters of Court Maple Leaf No. 9202, A.O.F., will hold their quarterly meeting this evening at 7.30 in the Foresters' Hall, Cormorant Street. Arrangements are being made for the bazaar to be held in the near future. After the business session an indoor picnic has been planned, and all sisters are reminded to bring their own baskets. Tea, sugar and milk will be provided. Friends, sisters and brother Foresters are invited.

Daughter's of England Lodge Primrose No. 32 held their social meeting on Friday, worthy vice-president Mrs. Edmonds presiding. The district deputy, Mrs. A. James, attended. It was followed by a successful card party convened by Mrs. J. Baron. A shower for the bazaar will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Haddy, Wark Street, on October 4 at 8 p.m. Choir practice will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Sons of England Hall and drill practice on October 11 at 2.

The regular meeting of the Junior Mission Circle of the Emmanuel Baptist Church was held Friday evening at the home of Miss Lillian Parfitt, Miss Gladys Rowley, the president, in the chair. FEW PITCHERS have achieved any great measure of success who did not show fast balls and curves with an identical motion. Habitual acts betraying pitches invariably result in the hurler getting his ears pinned back. There are those who can steal a pitch right out of a pitcher's glove. . . . Art Fletcher of the New York Yankees, Del Baker of the Detroit Tigers, and Merv Shea, now with the Brooklyn Dodgers, for examples.

Kemp Wicker moved his thumb up ever so lightly to get the spin on his curve. That is one reason why he no longer is with the Yanks. Thornton Lee of the Chicago White Sox tipped off every curve and fast ball until George Uhle, then a coach with the Cleveland Indians, straightened him out. Throwing a jug-handle, Lee brought his hands over his head and right down on the back of his neck. If coming in with a hard one, he stopped his hands just behind the head. Tommy Bridges of the Tigers had to conquer a habit he had, with a man on first, of stretching his hands way out from his body for a curve and only settling them half way out, with elbows bent, for a fast ball.

Jimmy Deshong of Washington formerly dropped his hands chest high for a fast ball, and let them fall down around his belt when a curve was coming up. Naturally, pitchers take precautions to guard their pitches when they discover that they've been tipping their mitts. The better ones quickly roll all of their pitches into one and the same motion.

But Red Faber of the old Chicago White Sox never got over swallowing when kicking a spitball, and not swallowing when he actually decorated the ball. There are those who contend that Johnny Vander Meer's eyes distended until they almost popped from his head when he throws the fast one. But, then, a pitcher can afford to let his eyes pop from his head when he can pop that hard one over the dish as rapidly as the young Cincinnati southpaw. In Vander Meer's case, it generally is too late for a hitter to do anything about it.

Trouble between Bill Terry and Harry Danning was that the catcher, under the weather, wanted to remain in Cincinnati to consult a physician friend. Terry ordered Harry the Horse to continue treatments for his lame back, as ordered by the club physician, and stay with the New York Giants, hoping to be able to use him occasionally.

There were words, with Danning deciding that he must have his own way. The suspension followed. Danning's loss was a severe blow to the Giants, coming when they needed the big backstop most. Harry the Horse was hitting around .320, and the Polo Grounders have too few of that type. It was when Gus Mancuso fractured his finger last summer that Danning stepped in to make himself so solid that this spring he was designated as the outfit's number one receiver.

BUDGE GAINS TENNIS SWEEP

Adds U.S. Singles Titles To Three Other Major Crowns

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. — Donald Budge, making probably his farewell appearance in the big stadium here, scored a light-hearted victory over his old pal Gene Mako in the final of the United States tennis championships Saturday. The scores were 6-3, 6-8, 6-2, 6-1.

The triumph completed the redhead's sweep of the world's major tournaments this season — the Australian, French, British and American. The record has not been approached before.

Another California star, Alice Marble, joined Budge as a two-time champion here as she overwhelmed Nancy Wynne of Australia, 6-0, 6-3, in an unexciting women's final. Miss Marble, winner also in 1936, completely outclassed the tall visitor, who was so nervous she could not control the simplest strokes.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Victoria Badminton Club will be held in the Chamber of Commerce tonight at 8. All members are requested to attend.

Nine City Championships Listed for Meet at Crystal Garden

Nine city championships go on the block in a program of 31 events drafted by the Vancouver Island Swimming League for its gala in the Crystal Garden next Monday night.

The meet will bring together the pick of the local aquatic talent in preparation for a major international event against Ray Daughters' Washington Athletic Club stars here on November 8. Vancouver performers may also compete in the latter.

Hazel Smith and Harris Munzie are figured to bring major honors to the Y.M.C.A., while Rae Saunders should carry the green and white V.A.S.C. colors to the front in the women's backstroke and Derick Cosby should gain a wide sweep in title events for boys under 13.

GIRLS DIVING

In the women's diving championship, Mrs. R. W. Hibberson's proteges, led by Margaret Rennie, are expected to take top honors. The "Y" should also win the men's and women's relay honors which do not carry championships.

Title events listed for the meet include the senior women's 50 yards freestyle, the senior men's 100 yards freestyle, girls and boys under 13 freestyle, 50 yards, and girls and boys under 15 freestyle, 50 yards. Juniors under 17 will also race for city honors over the same distance in championships.

In addition to the title events, standard backstroke, breast stroke and medley events are listed for both senior and junior talent.

WINNIPEG AND CALGARY WIN

Defeat Regina and Edmonton in Western Grid Battles

WINNIPEG (CP) — Monday morning quarterbacks got their heads together again today and after surveying Saturday's games in the Western Interprovincial Football Union, are convinced that, like the world series, the western champions will be the club with the best "pitchers."

Of course, they weren't referring to the fellow who stands out on the mound and fools the batters. They meant the boys who toss forward passes.

Reference was directed particularly at Calgary Bronks' narrow 5 to 3 win over Edmonton Eskimos and Winnipeg Blue Bombers' surprising 17 to 10 conquest of Regina Roughriders. In another Saturday engagement, University of British Columbia defeated Knights of Columbus, 8 to 3, in the Vancouver Big Four opener. Bombers took to the air in handing Dean Griffing's Regina their first setback of the season and along with some tricky thinking by quarterback Art Stevenson, the air spelled the difference between victory and defeat.

Win Foursomes

In the mixed foursomes played yesterday at the Golf Club General and Mrs. Luxford were the winners with a score of 94-74. W. Reade and Miss M. Wolfenden were second with 95-72½.

Golf Stars Gather

Canada's Leading Women Players at Ottawa For Team Match and Open Championship

OTTAWA (CP) — A brilliant collection of Canadian women golfing stars are gathering for a week and a half of championship golf over the Royal Ottawa Club's fairways and greens.

This week's play is but a prelude to the big tournament starting a week from today — the Canadian women's open championship. Mrs. John Rogers of Winnipeg, who won the title in her home city last year, is in Ottawa preparing for defence of her crown. There is a possibility Patty Berg of Minneapolis, who won the United States women's open in Chicago Saturday, might enter.

A British team of five players has entered and will engage a Canadian quintette in a team match Saturday, October 1. The British team includes Mrs. Wallace Williamson, Jessie Anderson, Nan Baird, Clarrie Tierlin and Mrs. J. B. Walker, all members of the Curtis Cup forces beaten recently by United States.

Pete Maffeo New President

Elected Head of Vancouver Island Basketball Association

NANAIMO — Pete Maffeo, well-known and popular Nanaimo sportsman, was the unanimous choice as president of the Vancouver Island Basketball Association at the annual meeting held here yesterday. The attendance at this party was one of the largest in the history of the island and indicated the keen interest that prevails in basketball in all Vancouver Island centres.

Walter Yeaman, ardent worker in the interests of basketball from Victoria, was elected vice-president, while Cecil Mulholland, Nanaimo, was chosen secretary-treasurer. McTaggart Cowan, Vancouver, was named honorary president, and J. V. Johnson, Victoria, and J. Hunt, Nanaimo, honorary vice-presidents.

The party lasted for four hours.

It was decided to hold the island playoff meeting earlier this season, the Sunday nearest January 15 instead of February 11. This change was made so that island finals could be finished earlier to give teams a chance to prepare for their British Columbia campaigns.

The meeting approved the idea of the formation of an island league to facilitate competition for isolated teams and those squads that are lone entries in a division and need games throughout the season to keep them in trim should they gain island and British Columbia final berths. All secretaries of various island divisions are asked to send their entry lists into the Vancouver Island secretary, who will arrange for a schedule for teams in this category.

Closer cooperation of all island divisions was urged at the meeting. The feeling of the delegates was that if the divisions worked in closer harmony, there would be no need for upper and lower associations on the island, a suggestion that had been advanced at the British Columbia Basketball Association meeting.

Maffeo, the new president, one of the original workers in the formation of the Vancouver Island association, who has always had the interests of basketball at heart, is expected to be a main factor in bringing about the much needed closer co-operation.

Closing date for signing players was set at January 1. Last year the date was January 31. It was decided to arrange a schedule for touring teams on the island this season so that every centre on the island would be given an opportunity to see these teams perform.

Annual reports were given by George Bonner, Cobble Hill, retiring president, and other retiring officers.

Camerons Victors In Softball Battle

Cameron Lumber softballers, city and island A section champions, added the Calvert knock-out cup to their collection yesterday afternoon, when they defeated Manager Jim Laidie's Victoria Longhorns, 7 to 6, after a keenly fought battle at Hampton Road Park. This was the last game of the softball season.

Appointment of an assistant to President Frank Calder, who also is secretary, was turned over to the governors. The governors decided at their last meeting in New York to appoint an aide to Calder, and names most frequently mentioned in connection with the position were those of Clarence Campbell of Edmonton and Mickey Ion, members of the refereeing staff. The matters of appointing referees was left over for the governors.

Burke to Coach

SASKATOON — Marty Burke, Montreal Canadiens' defenceman last year, was named coach of the Saskatoon Quakers yesterday by manager Jack Hunter. Hunter received a telegram from the veteran National Hockey League player yesterday stating he had accepted the Northern Saskatchewan Senior League club's offer and would report in Saskatoon about October 12.

Street Is Through

ST. LOUIS — Gabby Street was notified yesterday he will not be signed to manage St. Louis Browns next season. The announcement was issued by President Donald Barnes of the American League club. He said it was a reply to Gabby's request to learn his status for next year.

"He has served the club faithfully, and I believe he has done as well as anyone could have done but I believe it is necessary to engage a new manager," Barnes stated. Street will continue as manager for the balance of the season.

Seven National Hockey League Clubs Will Usher in Season; New Playoff System Arranged

TORONTO — Established on a new seven-club, single-group basis, the National Hockey League will start its 1938-39 schedule November 3, and eliminate only one team from a chance at the Stanley Cup when the race ends March 19.

The league decided at its annual meeting here Saturday that the first six teams in the standing would enter playoffs for the Stanley Cup, symbolic of the world professional championship. The top club, however, will be declared N.H.L. champion and will take the Prince of Wales Cup. The second team will get the O'Brien Cup.

The new set-up was the most important development of a quiet closed meeting, at which numerous rule changes were made. Little player dealing was done by managers.

The first and second clubs will meet in series A of the Stanley Cup series, to be decided on a seven-game basis. First team to win four games will enter Stanley Cup finals.

The third and fourth finishers will meet in series B, to be decided on a best-of-three games basis. The fifth and sixth will play in series C, also on a best-of-three basis. The survivors of B and C will meet in series D — on a best-of-three plan — for the right to meet the league champions in the cup finals, a best-of-seven round.

NEW REFEREE PLAN

The league adopted all playing rules changes advised by a special committee.

A plan for realigning the work of officials handling a game was approved. Instead of two referees there will be a referee and a linesman. The referee will have charge of the game and the linesman's only duties will be to call offside and rule when the puck is "iced."

Appointment of an assistant to President Frank Calder, who also is secretary, was turned over to the governors. The governors decided at their last meeting in New York to appoint an aide to Calder, and names most frequently mentioned in connection with the position were those of Clarence Campbell of Edmonton and Mickey Ion, members of the refereeing staff. The matters of appointing referees was left over for the governors.

Billy Burke Golf Leader

Sets Pace in Westchester Open With 36-hole Score of 139

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. — Billy Burke, Cleveland veteran who beat George Von Elm in a 72-hole playoff for the 1931 United States open golf championship, led the field yesterday as contestants in the Westchester 108-hole marathon passed the 36-hole mark en route to first prize of $5,000.

Burke toured the tough Fenway Golf Club layout in 70 blows, par for the course, and a total of 139.

Dick Metz, who had led the first round with a 67, kited to 79 for 146. United States open champion Ralph Guldahl, four-putting the 18th and three-putting three other greens, came up with a 76 for 147.

One stroke behind Burke, 83 players who scored 153 or better qualified today's 36 holes came Paul Runyan, pint-sized United States Professional Golf Association champion, and Chandler Harper, skinny Portsmouth, Va., pro, both with 140.

Stanley Horne of Ottawa, and Bob Gray of Toronto, were the only Canadians to qualify. Gray shot 36-73 for 150, Horne fired a 76 for 153.

PATTY BERG NEW U.S. CHAMPION

Defeats Mrs. E. L. Page 6 and 5 For National Golf Crown

CHICAGO — Determined little Patty Berg holds the women's United States golf championship today and a place among the sport's all-time greats.

Climaxing an amazing burst of sub-par golf, the Minnesota girl captured her first national crown Saturday by overwhelming the defending champion, Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, of Chapel Hill, N.C., 6 and 5.

Just a year ago, freckle-faced Patty bowed in the finals to Mrs. Page, 7 and 6. But Saturday Miss Berg amply avenged that defeat. Her putting gave her a two-hole edge during the first 18 holes.

In the afternoon she carded straight fours on the first eight holes, finishing the 27th with a lead of five holes. She picked up three birdies as she toured the out nine holes in 37, two under par.

Table Tennis Games Billed

Second Division Teams Open Season Wednesday

Teams in the first division of the Victoria Table Tennis Association will resume their games tomorrow night at the Crystal Garden headquarters, while second division squads will usher in their season the following night. Matches will start at 7.45.

Doug Park, secretary, points out that players do not necessarily have to be on the roster of a team to join the association. Thursday and Friday nights are open for social play.

First-division games billed to tomorrow night will bring together Royal Arcanum No. 1 team, who defeated Hollywood Club last week, 24 to 8; Macdonald Electric vs. Hollywood; Aces vs. Renfrew Bros. Cleaners; Louis Nelson's Garage vs. Liberty Cafe.

Second-division games listed for Wednesday night are: Betterettes vs. Royal Arcanum No. 2; Murphy Electronics vs. Melrose; Victoria Baggage vs. The Stars.

Bays Beaten By One Point

Drop B.C. Rugby Title Battle to Vancouver Rowing Club 18 to 17

VANCOUVER (CP) — The trophy emblematic of the oarsmen's English rugby championship of British Columbia is held in Vancouver today and the new winners are all set for a successful year in remaining cup matches.

The J.B.A.A. of Victoria sent over a strong 15 here Saturday but were squeezed out of the picture 18 to 17 by Vancouver Rowing Club.

The silverware was copped by the island team last year when they downed the Rowers 12 to 0. The J.B.A.A. squad had an unlucky day Saturday as they missed three converts and three penalty kicks, which would have given them a handsome lead. Their score was comprised of three tries, one goal and one penalty kick.

Rowing Club were more fortunate in the breaks and piled up their full game score of 18 points in the first half of the game. They were credited with three goals and one try.

FIRST HALF

Rowing Club broke fast in the first half of the game and started on a scoring spree after Doug Bray had notched the island team's first try on a loose rush.

Al Mercer of Vancouver starred in the game as he accounted for two tries and converted one. Max McLeod kicked the other. Ainsley Dagg set the leather down for Rowing Club's third try and Mercer booted the ball clear.

A try for Bruce Clark, minutes before time finished the scoring for the new champions. The J.B.A.A. club broke fast in the second half and acquired their first three points when Campbell Forbes booted the ball over the bar on a penalty shot.

Ken Buxton and Frank Doherty followed Forbes' marker and carried the ball over the line for two tries but both converts were missed by Forbes. Bert Simpson snagged the ball about 10 minutes before time and a long dash to the line added another three points. His try was converted by Buzz Brown.

The kicking ability of the visitors lost them a hard fought second half battle as they completely took control of play for the final 35 minutes.

Score Dodos

Two holes-in-one were scored on the eighth hole at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday. The new members of the dodo club are Mrs. Alex Watson and W. H. Dunbar. The hole is 118 yards in length.

Seals Take Two Games; Angels Out

San Francisco and Sacramento Open Final Wednesday

San Francisco Seals and Sacramento Senators, the underdogs, are going to battle it out in the finals of the Shaughnessy playoffs in the Coast Baseball League to determine who is going to get the lion's share of $7,500 in prize money.

San Francisco eliminated Seattle Rainiers by taking both ends of a twin bill, 5 to 4 and 6 to 0 yesterday. The Seals, who managed to get into the playoffs by two percentage points, beat Freddie Hutchinson, Seattle's juvenile pitching ace, and the circuit's leading hurler in the opener.

After losing the first game, 3 to 2, Senators had an easy time winning the second, 10 to 1, from Los Angeles Angels, who captured the pennant by finishing on top at the end of the regular schedule. It gave the Solons four out of six games.

Charley Graham, president of the Seals, said he expected the playoff finals to open in Sacramento Wednesday night. Three games of a seven-game series will be played in Sacramento, he said, the remainder in San Francisco.

First prize of $5,000 goes to the team winning the finals. The runner-up gets $2,500. A $500 trophy also goes to the first place team.

Seattle and Los Angeles got $1,250 each for their trouble.

MAJOR LEAGUES

The New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds are out of the National League baseball race; Hank Greenberg's home run record chances are dying, and the New York Yanks keep on looking more like clumps than champs.

But all that's only incidental to the baseball picture, because the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates tangle tomorrow in the start of a three-game "sudden death" series—which will decide the National League pennant.

Even if the Cubs drop a decision to the St. Louis Cardinals this afternoon, it won't make much difference. They'd still be only 2½ games back of Pittsburgh in that case, and they have to sweep the series to turn the trick anyway.

It looks as though Pie Traynor will have the pitching edge for the set. Pie only had to use Red Lucas to top the Reds 5 to 3 yesterday, while Gabby Hartnett led with one-half of his pair of Chicago aces, Clay Bryant, in whipping the Cardinals 7 to 2.

The race became a two-team affair yesterday when the Bucs bumped the Reds and Boston Bees nipped the Giants twice, 3 to 2, in 11 innings and 4 to 3 behind the five-hit elbowing of old Tim Lincecum. This made it mathematically impossible for either the Reds or the Giants to catch up, and left the Pirates two games up on the Cubs, each with seven to go.

In the American League the Yankees went winless again against Boston Red Sox, dropping a 5 to 3 opener in 10 innings and fighting for a 2 to 2 draw, which will be played off today.

St. Louis Browns surprised everyone by clipping Chicago White Sox 7 to 2 and 8 to 4.

Hank Greenberg went homerless again, although he and his Detroit mates mauled Cleveland Indians 7 to 5. Big Hank now has seven more games to collect four homers to equal Babe Ruth's record.

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Phillies split a pair of 5 to 1 decisions in the other National League larrupping, and the Philadelphia Athletics, after topping Washington 6 to 5 in their 10th game.

Huskies Are Badly Beaten

Washington Footballers Go Down 15 to 0 Before Minnesota

NEW YORK — All three of the great powerhouses of 1937—Pitt, Alabama and Minnesota—apparently are headed for the United States football heights again. As the 1938 season opened Saturday with scattered form reversals all along the line, these three stalwarts stood firm.

A crowd of 65,000 looked on at Los Angeles as Alabama swept aside Southern California's Trojans, 19 to 7. Lightning passes by Herky Moseley led to two touchdowns for the winners.

At Minneapolis, the Minnesota Gophers generated entirely too much power for Washington Huskies and romped to a 15 to 0 triumph before 50,000.

Pitt, led once more by all-America Marshall Goldberg, crushed West Virginia 19 to 0 before a crowd of 35,000. Goldberg romped to two touchdowns.

Sonny Jones Wins When Bout Halted

NEW YORK — Sonny Jones, Canadian negro from Vancouver, scored a six-round technical knockout victory here Saturday night over Mike (Kid) Fratelli of Italy, number two challenger for the world welterweight championship in the National Boxing Association ratings.

The referee stopped the fight, scheduled for 10 rounds, after the dusky puncher opened a bad cut over one of the Italian's eyes with his busy left hand. The end of the bout, main event on a card at Rockland Palace, came after one minute 47 seconds of the sixth. Jones weighed 149 and Fratelli 151.

CANADIAN WINS

DUSSELDORF, Germany—Al Delaney, Ottawa, Ont., heavy-weight scored an easy victory on points over Arno Koelblin of Germany, in a 12-round bout yesterday.

Horse Racing Ends Today

B.C. Season Finishes at Willows Track

The curtain comes down this afternoon at the Willows on the 1938 thoroughbred racing season in British Columbia. After 56 days of running on the mainland and Victoria the horses from outside will move south for the winter season and the locally-owned steeds will be turned out to pasture.

Getaway day features the popular marathon event at two miles and thirty yards with several of the stayers at the track performing.

On Saturday a driving three-horse finish roused the large crowd in the Daily Colonist handicap with West Bros' Enlo getting the call by a neck from E. L. Staples' Kelconard. Just half a length back was Mrs. L. H. Davidson's Good Han.

A new high for quinnella returns was posted in the fifth when Don Carley's Terry Tet galloped home an easy winner at 22 to 1, followed by Mrs. A. Pallitti's Firm Mint a 20 to 1 shot. They returned $254.55 in the one-two betting. Terry Tet paid $46.10 straight.

In the seventh Peace Leg ran second to the highly-favored Exilda and they paid off $42.25 in the quinnella.

Jockey Ray Christensen put in a strong bid for riding honors at the meeting when he galloped home with the first three winners, Mortgage Lifter, Sweet Pekoe and The Trainer. He was the first boy to ride both halves of the daily double which paid $34.20.

Ill-luck that has dogged the popular Louie Dear finally was dispelled when he met a four-horse field in the fourth and won in a common canter. The muddy track suited him perfectly.

Following are the detailed results:

First race—Five and a half furlongs.
Mortgage Lifter $8.80 $4.70 $3.20
Exilda $4.15 $3.40 $2.40
Mortgage Lifter $4.15 $3.40 $2.40
Also ran: Exilda, Miss Nover, Capt. Larkin, Dark Devil, Time 1:11 4-5.
Second race—Six furlongs and 30 yards.
Sweet Pekoe (Christensen) $4.00 $2.55 $2.45
Time Enough (Jackson) $3.95 $2.50 $2.40
Griddle Cake (Breed) $4.00 $2.55 $2.40
Also ran: Exilda, Hun Petty, Jim Aime, Ad. L. 12 and Ken King, Time 1:20 1-4.
Third race—One mile and an eighth.
The Trainer (Christensen) $2.70 $1.50 $1.40
Silver Band (Cragg) $2.60 $1.40 $1.30
Linet (Sperry) $2.50 $1.30 $1.20
Also ran: Exilda, Genevieve M. My Gen., Roman, Spanish Light and Suncor, Time 2:03 1-8.
Daily double paid $34.20.
Fourth race—Six furlongs and 30 yards.
Louie Dear (Jackson) $4.15 $4.10 $3.10
Ben Higgins (Holliday) $4.35 $2.40 $2.40
La Numba (Sperry) $4.25 $2.35 $2.30
Also ran: Omar John and Thunderbark, Time 1:22.
Fifth race—One mile.
Terry Tet (Reedley) $44.10 $17.75 $9.20
Firm Mint (Holliday) $15.10 $10.10 $7.10
Madam Chere (Holliday) $4.25 $2.35 $2.30
Also ran: Sunny Dolan, Mopeck, Flatiron, Brown Jester and Chasteline, Time 1:46 1-4.
One-two bet in the fifth paid $254.55.
Sixth race—One mile and an eighth.
Exilda (Holliday) $4.80 $2.70 $2.70
Akashia (Cragg) $4.70 $2.60 $2.60
Also ran: Flying Dancer, Boyer, St. My. Mint, Bonilla and Great Joe, Time 1:22.
One-two bet in the seventh paid $42.25.

BOUGHT BY A'S—Upon selling Bill Lillard, shown above taking his cut, to the Philadelphia Athletics for spring delivery, Charley Graham, veteran president of the San Francisco Seals, said the young shortstop was a better player in his second year of professional baseball than were Frank Crosetti, Willie Kamm, and a lot of others.

Lillard, a skillful fielder and brother of Gene Lillard of Los Angeles, is hitting well over .300.

Russian Girls Return to Cosmetics

By PETER STURBERG IN RUSSIA

IT'S NO LONGER bourgeois to primp and paint. The girls of the Soviet Union are doing it. Despite the low production of the light industries compared with the heavy industries, the Russian women are generally well dressed. Their clothes are simple but neat, and even stylish. In the southern cities I saw some girls as smartly clad as Parisiennes.

The shoes are not as good as the dresses. When I was in Russia the girls were wearing ankle socks which must have been nice and cool in the hot Russian summer. However, I think they would have worn silk stockings if they could have got them.

Clothes never did make the woman, and it's now true in Russia as well. I went through one factory in Kiev which boasted a beauty parlor for its workers.

In Moscow I saw one of the great plants of the Soap and Cosmetic Trust which works night and day to satisfy the Soviet girl. Not only does it produce soaps of all kinds of scents and shapes (one brand of which won a gold medal at the Paris Exposition), face creams and lipsticks, but a combination face cream and rouge which the guide said "killed two rabbits with one shot."

This factory, which employs 3,000 workers, turns out 1,000,000 pieces of soap and 600,000 cosmetics a day.

The Soviet girl is just like any other girl. She wants to make the best of her appearance; and now she can get cosmetics and beauty aids she is making full use of them.

In Odessa one of the guides was a smartly-clad girl whose fingernails matched her dress. Among the tourists whom she was showing around was an old farmer from North Dakota or some such place in the United States. He was rather an abrupt man, used to speaking his own mind.

When he noticed her lacquered fingernails he told her quite plainly he did not like them. She was not in the least abashed, however, and told him quite plainly she thought he was old-fashioned and out-dated. After which they were good friends.

Shock Treatment Is Criticized

Vivisectionists Oppose Insulin Plan; Protest Censor of Health Lectures

Pointed criticism of the use of shock treatment for insane persons and also the control of radio health lectures on the CBC network by the Department of Pensions and Health were made in resolutions passed last week by the local board of the Canadian Anti-Vivisection Society.

The resolutions passed by the board follow:

"In view of information received from England and other sources, as to the distressing effects of insulin, metrazol and cardiac shock treatments for the insane, this society warns parents and guardians and advises them against giving permission for such treatment.

"That this meeting criticizes a letter from the CBC, Toronto, stating that the Department of Pensions and National Health controls all addresses on health matters and takes objection to this attitude in view of the narrow and biased attitude of some members of the medical profession, and that the CBC be advised accordingly.

"That this society condemns the constant stressing of the fear of disease, the effect being to make people disease-conscious instead of health-conscious."

A message was read from the Duchess of Hamilton and Brandon, giving her objections to vivisection, vaccination, inoculation and immunization. Letters were also read from India, Spain and other countries acknowledging assistance through personal contributions.

The case of John Marsh, arrested in Pennsylvania for refusing vaccination for his child was reported upon by his attorney

OUR MAIL BAG

SOCCER SITUATION

To the Sports Editor:—Now that a decision has been given by the British Columbia Football Association commission in refusing the application of the Elks Football Club for a franchise in the Intercity Football League, I have been instructed by the executive of the Victoria and District Football League, in the interest of soccer locally, to correct any possible misunderstanding which may have arisen due to misleading information contained in the letter of the applicant club to the B.C.F.A.C., and which was quoted in a recent issue of the Times.

The letter, already referred to, states that the sole purpose of the application for a franchise was to raise the standard of play and to save the game itself in Victoria. This is a commendable attitude, with which everyone is interested in the game would be heartily in accord. Its bona fide is doubted and the proposal as submitted would have meant the death-knell of the game in Victoria. It simply meant that the Victoria United Football Club, which has operated continuously in the Intercity League since its inception, and with great credit, would be taken over part and parcel by the Elks Football Club.

To do this four or five of the players of each of the Saturday first division clubs, who under the present arrangement may play for their own team in all local competitions and also for the Victoria United Football Club in the Intercity League, would of necessity, be signed only for the Elks Football Club, and would then not be available to the five local first division teams. Nothing new was or could be offered the public.

The suggestion has also been offered that the proposed Elks Football Club, while not entering the local league, would play in the cup games. Again the result is obvious as there would be no competition between the pick of the local players and five seriously weakened clubs.

To anyone with a knowledge of work, traveling and park conditions, it is equally obvious that an Intercity League can not operate in which it is required that a local entry shall play in Vancouver and Victoria alternate weeks, or on a bi-monthly basis. Players are not in a position to leave work two or even one day each month throughout the entire season, and there is only one closed park available in Vancouver and one in Victoria. In this connection Vancouver has five teams in the Intercity League, all of which are necessary to a proper competition of this kind, and the park must also take care of Vancouver League and Cup games.

It has been the aim of the B.C.F.A.C., with its local committee and the Victoria and District League, at all times to establish a sound Intercity League and in this way encourage and foster the game among the youth of Vancouver Island and the mainland. Conditions as outlined here are such that it is impossible to provide more games per season than we had in the past. Had it been possible to do so the get-up of the league would have arranged to take care of this point. All signed players of the local first division teams are eligible to play on the Victoria United Football Club, and in this way are given the opportunity to play the best soccer possible.

The reference to dwindling crowds at intercity games is poorly taken because those who attended remember the unusual, but most unfavorable weather conditions which prevailed on the day of each game played here last season.

Space does not permit further comment. In requesting the continued support of soccer fans, the Victoria and District League takes this opportunity of mentioning that five clubs will play in the first division league and a number of new faces will be seen on each team.

J. F. MESHER, Secretary, Victoria and District Football League.

Street Railway Men Ask Council Delay on Franchise Pending Action

Delay by the City Council of action on the street railway franchise until a petition circulated by street railway employees has been completed and the result determined, is sought in a letter addressed to the City Council today.

The communication is above the signature of W. Turner, secretary of Division 109, Street Railwaymen's Association.

It draws specific attention to a conversation between delegates of the union and W. G. Murrin, president of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, in which the union representatives pointed out to Mr. Murrin several employees were near pensionable age. It states Mr. Murrin was sympathetically disposed to the delegates request to continue the street railway for another five years to enable such men to qualify for pensions.

WANT TRAMS
 "Our committee is of the firm opinion that there are a majority of the people who still wish the street cars to continue and we are circulating a petition to ask that the street cars be allowed to continue for a period, up to five years longer," the letter stated in part.

"Mr. Murrin stated to our delegation that if it were decided that the street cars should run for a period up to five years longer, he would be prepared to improve the tracks and spend a certain sum of money for reconditioning the cars. We respectfully ask that the City Council delay any action on franchise matters till the result of our petition is seen," it concluded.

TOWN TOPICS

Rev. Gladwyn Nichols, who is now completing a successful five weeks' conference in Vancouver, will come to Victoria Monday, October 3, to conduct a city-wide prophetic, signs-of-the-times Bible conference, under the auspices of the International Foursquare Churches of Canada.

Cars driven by K. P. Beckman, Saanichton, and L. Dicks, 1302 Gladstone Avenue, were damaged in a collision at Quadra and Pembroke Streets early yesterday morning, a police report said. Mrs. Dicks was reported to have suffered a bruised shoulder and knee in the accident.

Hearing of the appeal of Vincent Macchione, three times convicted on a charge of murder and three times sentenced to be hanged, was adjourned until Thursday today when the appellants found it impossible to produce the appeal books for the hearing scheduled today.

The annual meeting of Ward Five Saanich Liberal Association was held last Thursday evening in St. Michael's Parish Hall with a good turnout of Liberal supporters. Officers elected were: Hon. president, Norman Whittaker, K.C., M.P.P.; hon. vice-president, Alan Chambers; president, Henry Robinson; vice-president, H. Spicer; secretary, F. A. Huck. Delegates to the central executive will be A. G. Weeks, S. Kistruck and H. Armitage; ward executive, R. Lohr, Mr. Spicer, H. Thompson and Mrs. Monckton. Alan Chambers addressed the meeting on the Kelowna convention and spoke on education costs, social security and a higher standard of living for farmers. Mr. Whittaker spoke on health insurance and cheaper gas.

Tom Hardy Named "Y" Leader Head

Tom Hardy was elected president of the Y.M.C.A. Junior Leaders' Corps at the annual luncheon meeting held in the association building on Saturday. Mr. Hardy succeeded Grant Willis as president, who along with Doug and Ken Marsland, accepted an invitation to become members of the "Y" Senior Corps.

Don Rae was named vice-president of the group and Fred Winslow was elected secretary-treasurer.

300 VETERANS AT CONCERT PROGRAM

Three hundred members of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion met Saturday night in the clubrooms for their annual get-together.

The branch band rendered a number of popular selections. Others contributing to the program were: William Anderson, violinist; Len Foster, whistler; Jack Collins, tenor; Johnny Gow, marionettes; A. Jackman, baritone; Alex Horne, late of the Dumbells; Stan James, humorist, and David Meredith, recitations.

P. C. Payne was master of ceremonies.

Mr. Burdon-Murphy expressed the hope that every member would share Mr. Guyler's enthusiasm. He announced "The New Membership Night" to be held in the upper Crystal Garden Ballroom next Tuesday evening at 9. Members were asked to bring friends who desired to join the society. The following evening a "furniture shower" will be held at the club's quarters and all were invited to contribute toward furnishing the Beaux-Arts clubhouse.

Theft Series Investigated

Cash and Jewelry Taken By Thieves Who Looted Homes Over Week-end

A series of week-end robberies in which there was similarity in the means of entrance in several instances was under investigation by city detectives.

Five premises were reported entered in the city and Foul Bay areas and jewelry and cash constituted the principal haul.

At 10 last night Mrs. W. Vey, 713 Vancouver Street, reported her house ransacked while she was at church and $2 in cash and a lady's gold wrist watch missing. A front window of the house was jimmied.

Five minutes later, H. W. Davy, 346 Vancouver Street, reported he had returned home and found his place entered by a thief who jimmied a side window. A lady's platinum wrist watch set with four diamonds and two sapphires was stolen.

At 10:50 last night, H. R. Savage, 944 Johnson Street, reported a gold watch stolen by a thief who climbed on the roof of a rear shed then got in through a bedroom window. Burned matches were found around the house.

Shortly after 8 on Saturday night Mrs. Rena Cross reported her room in a local rooming house had been entered and a revolver belonging to her late husband had been stolen. Drawers were ransacked.

The home of Mrs. G. W. Shearling, 1881 Hollywood Crescent, was entered Friday night and there was nothing taken despite the fact the place was ransacked, she reported Saturday night.

Raymond Guyler Outlines Plans to Beaux-Arts Members

Members of the Beaux-Arts yesterday at a meeting at the Oak Bay Theatre Hall were introduced to Raymond Guyler and his wife, Nancy Pritchard, who have been brought to Victoria by the club to direct and teach for six months. They were introduced by Brian Burdon-Murphy to the 40 members who attended the meeting.

Mr. Guyler remarked that during a previous visit to Victoria he noticed a lack of entertainment as regards the legitimate theatre, and thought there was an opportunity for development of stage productions. He commented upon the decline of the legitimate stage in England immediately after the war and stressed the point that the present high calibre of English stage production was due to the active interest created by the amateur dramatic clubs of that country.

Mr. Guyler outlined his plans for the season, during which time he will conduct classes in movement, voice production, mime, improvisation, make-up, stage production and characterization and theatre design, with a view to casting a play within three or four weeks.

Mr. Burdon-Murphy expressed the hope that every member would share Mr. Guyler's enthusiasm. He announced "The New Membership Night" to be held in the upper Crystal Garden Ballroom next Tuesday evening at 9. Members were asked to bring friends who desired to join the society. The following evening a "furniture shower" will be held at the club's quarters and all were invited to contribute toward furnishing the Beaux-Arts clubhouse.

ISLAND PIONEER—Funeral services for Dr. John Alfred Pybus, first doctor of Alberni district 50 years ago, who passed away on Friday, were held yesterday at All Saints' Anglican Church, with Rev. Robert Connell of Victoria officiating. When the late Dr. Pybus first landed in Canada from Australia, Victoria was his first location as a medical man. He claimed the distinction of being the first to introduce medical examinations in schools and, as chairman of the building fund, was one of the founders of the Anglican Church at Alberni, of which he was a churchwarden. He instituted the first harvest festival to be held at All Saints' Church and, by a coincidence, harvest festival services were being held at the hour of his funeral ceremonies at the church. Interment was at Greenwood cemetery.

Will Give Punch Board Money Back

An order for the return of money to everyone who subscribed to a punch board produced in court during a recent assault hearing was made by Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning. The direction was made on the application of Fred H. Temblett, who collected the money on behalf of Joe Cresswell, from whom he obtained the punch board. The amount involved was $16.15 and a dispute over the sum led to an assault charge against Cresswell a few weeks ago.

Temblett said this morning he was prepared to take the money and return it to each of the 50 odd persons who had subscribed to the board.

Cresswell opposed the application because he said four of his clients who had drawn prizes on the board had not received them. The punch board was issued on behalf of a veteran's organization in eastern Canada, he said. He agreed to have the money turned over to the orphanage or solatium.

C. L. Harrison, prosecutor, said the punch board was no doubt illegal and the court agreed it could make no direction of the kind suggested by Cresswell with money illegally secured.

PRIVATEER MINE ACTION STARTED

The Privateer Mine and other Zeballos holdings came to the attention of the British Columbia Supreme Court here today in an action by Herbert Winsby against David S. Tait, representing the firm of Tait & Marchant, involving an accounting of an alleged agreement entered into between Mr. Winsby and Mr. Tait over options on the properties in 1935.

Objection was taken by H. A. Davey, appearing for the defendants, Tait & Marchant, to the summation of the action by H. A. MacLean, K.C., for the plaintiff Winsby as the hearing opened before Mr. Justice Fisher.

Following Mr. MacLean's outline, Mr. Davey contended the case put to the court verbally differed materially from that set forth in the pleadings. Mr. Davey contended counsel for the plaintiff sought, through a court ruling, to give his client a claim on the proceeds from the Privateer Mine, whereas, Mr. Davey held, he was entitled only to an accounting. If he had wished to open the whole issue of proceeds, he should have made a special prayer for such, Mr. Davey said.

Dogs Poisoned

Poisoning of three dogs owned by a resident of Garbally Road within the last few days is being investigated by police.

Examination of the animals by local veterinary surgeons disclosed death in each instance was due to strychnine, a police report said.

The dogs were owned by Mrs. J. Cassidy, 464 Garbally Road, who could not account to police for anyone deliberately poisoning her pets.

O. Kendall Gives Interesting Facts About Radio at Luncheon

"Facts About Radio of Interest to the Layman" was the subject of an address by O. Kendall at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Victoria Gyro Club in the Empress Hotel today.

Radio had been used since the time of civilization, the speaker said. An ordinary flashlight was a radio in that it broadcast light. Mr. Kendall said that there was no difference between radio waves and light waves, except in their rates of vibration.

The speaker said that there was no sound in radio, and also that there was no sound broadcast. A light wave was broadcast which contacted the aerial, and corresponding electric waves were set up in the metal aerial. The aerial fed the tubes of the radio set, with the wave, and the tubes amplified the wave to a power sufficient to operate the pump of loud speaker of the set.

The tube, or method by which the signal was built up, worked much the same way as when a bullet was fired from a gun. Little force was needed to pull the trigger of the gun, yet the bullet was sent at a tremendous force.

A radio station had the facility to throw out light waves. If there was no sound in the station and the power was on, the ray would be continuous. For example, Mr. Kendall explained that when a violin was played in the station, its vibrations interrupted the light wave being sent out, and these interruptions in the wave carried the music to the radio set. Everett Taylor, president, was in the chair. Mr. Taylor announced that the installation of new officers would take place on Saturday evening at the Colwood Golf and Country Club.

R. Myers, Dominion secretary of the Amputations' Association of the Great War, and Col. E. A. Baker, O.B.E., national president of the Canadian Institute for the Blind, will address a dinner meeting of the local branch of the Amputations' Association this evening at 7 in the Hudson's Bay dining room. It is expected that both speakers will deal with matters relating to disabled ex-servicemen and their relationship to present conditions throughout the Dominion. Members of the Amputations' Association as well as blind ex-servicemen and their wives will attend the meeting.

Plaza Holds Over "Algiers"

Charles Boyer and Sigrid Gurie Play in Fascinating Roles

Charles Boyer played the most exciting role of his career in "Algiers." Walter Wanger's thrilling celluloid entertainment which is being held over at the Plaza Theatre.

Sigrid Gurie, who made her bow in "The Adventures of Marco Polo" recently, and Hedy Lamarr, the gorgeous Viennese actress who makes her first film appearance in "Algiers" and is already being named as Hollywood's number one glamour girl, are in the cast.

The picture, which is set in the unusual and fascinating locale of the Casbah, the mysterious native quarter of Algiers, casts Boyer as Pepe le Moko, notorious jewel thief, who has taken refuge here from the French police. For the Casbah takes the law into its own hands and protects its citizens with a fierce loyalty.

Salt Spring Island

A card party and dance, arranged by the pupils of Ganges High School, held last Friday evening in the Mahon Hall was an enjoyable event.

Thirty-three tables were in play, first prize for ladies being taken by Mrs. Jack Abbott, the second going to Miss Lorna Spicer. Gentlemen's first was won by Eric Springford, J. McLaughlin winning the second. The consolation prize went to Basil Robinson. Following supper, dancing was enjoyed.

A delightful time was spent at Ganges House last Tuesday afternoon when 30 friends of Mrs. W. M. Mouat, who, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Grace Mouat, left Saturday for an extended stay in Victoria gathered to wish them "Au revoir and Goodspeed." On arrival, Mrs. Mouat was presented with a bouquet of roses and mauve and pale pink asters. Miss Mouat was the recipient of a cup and saucer. The presentation of both gifts was made by Mrs. J. D. Reid.

Education for marriage, not sex education, is needed, Dr. Popenoe declared, in addressing a conference of the California Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

"The almost incredible failure of marriage in Los Angeles county, with half of all marriages ending in the courts, is not because there is no help available for young people," he said.

"Here is a great deal of help, but they don't use it, because school, church and home have not taught them the necessity for taking the subject seriously, but have left them to get their ideas from the radio crooners and the movies."

"In a majority of states," he said, "the marriage of a woman teacher is still ground for her dismissal. No attempt is made to claim she is any less efficient after marriage. She is, in fact, probably more efficient. But she will lose her job just the same."

GOLDS SLUMP

VANCOUVER - (CP) — Pr

LATE RALLY

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Stock Market closed with a hopeful note after suffering one of the severest breaks of the current war-scare period. Turnover was about 900,000 shares. At the bottom of the dip recessions ranging up to four points were showing for Smelters, National Steel, some of the preferred leaders and Walkers common. These were reduced moderately but final prices showed net losses of two points or more.

Noranda, Nickel and Smelters closed two to four down. Minor declines appeared for Sherritt, Ventures, Coast Copper and Pend Oreille.

Steels, papers, foods, utilities, liquors, implements and building shares all slipped back.

The close was down moderately for Calgary-Edmonton, Home, Okalta, Anglo-Canadian and the cheaper western oils.

Famous People of the Stage

1—DAVID GARRICK
Some actors go on the stage and recite their lines as if they were "speaking a piece." They make the audience feel that the play they are seeing is not at all "real."

Good actors, however, have a free and easy way of speaking. They give the words of the play, but it seems they are taking part in events of life. The better they are, the more natural they are. Two centuries ago the English stage was a place where the actors spoke their pieces, and let it go at that. People came to look at the plays, but did not go away with the feeling that much had been added to their lives. One evening a crowd at Ipswich, a town not far from London, was given a special treat. A young man, whom no one had heard of before, acted a part in a play. Those who watched him forgot they were in a theatre. The young actor's voice rose and fell; he seemed to mean every word he spoke.

The actor was David Garrick, and at the time he was 24 years of age. Soon afterward he appeared on a stage in London, taking the part of King Richard in one of Shakespeare's plays. Young Garrick had come to London a few years before, in company with his tutor, Samuel Johnson. The tutor was to become the famous "Dr. Johnson," author of a dictionary and of many other books.

For a time Garrick did not know what use he should make of his life. He thought for a time he would become a lawyer, but the death of an uncle—a wine merchant—changed his mind. The young man became part owner of a "wine shop," but we are told he gave away more wine than he sold. Among the customers, especially those who came for "free drinks," were actors. Garrick talked with them, and grew more and more interested in the stage. After he won his first success as an actor he sold his share of the wine business to his partners. From that moment forward, his work was to give people worthwhile entertainment.

Night after night, Garrick appeared on the stage. His success was so great that people stopped going to other theatres, and flocked to the one where he was to appear, hoping to obtain at least standing room. Garrick bought a share in a London theatre, and became manager of a company. Yet he kept on with his work as an actor. His fame spread, and he journeyed to the continent of Europe to perform. Among those who hailed him as a great actor was the noted French writer, Voltaire.

One reason Garrick's success lasted all his life was his happy marriage with Eva Maria Violette. She had been a dancer before marriage, but now she turned her thoughts to the well being of her husband, and cheered him on his way. Garrick died in 1779, when he was not quite 72 years of age. He was honored by being buried in Westminster Abbey, and later his wife was buried beside him.

UNCLE RAY.
HOROSCOPE
According to astrology this is an unimportant day in planetary direction. It is a time to follow routine programs of social or business affairs.

It is a most fortunate configuration for women of all ages, and should mark the launching of their public activities. Both business and professional work is under good guidance. There is a promising sign for actresses. New stars will be successful, but few will reach lasting fame.

It is a lucky date for entertaining. Hostesses will benefit through hospitalities under this rule of the stars. Lawyers should profit at this time. National honors are prognosticated for men of unusual attainments in legal lore or diplomatic training. This is a happy wedding day.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

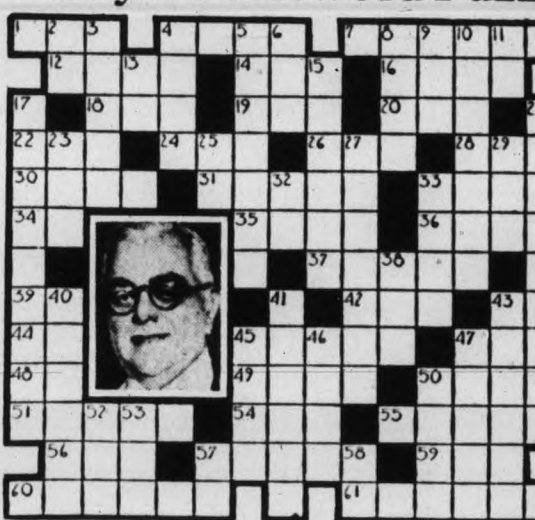

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a young married woman thoroughly discouraged with life. My husband and I can never agree about anything. I have tried to make peace, but it is no use. He openly flaunts his affairs in my face. We have one child and I have decided to stand by the cradle, no matter what, but, oh, what a heartache! I have considered stepping out myself. Would it be wrong? It is lonesome looking out the window for a husband who grudgingly comes home at as late an hour as he can make. A CHILD'S MOTHER.

Answer: If you and your husband cannot agree and are always fighting, why do you not separate temporarily, at least? Sometimes absence makes the heart grow fonder and husbands and wives who thought they had ceased to love each other find out when they are parted that the old tie holds and that they are necessary to each other's happiness.

But if you have the courage to go on living with your husband you must have the strength to add to it by refusing to quarrel with him. If you do not think alike you can keep silent about the things about which you disagree and so keep peace in the home. All psychologists agree that nothing on earth wrecks a child's life so much as being brought up in a discordant household. Better any kind of a home where there is peace. Better even an orphan asylum than a home in which there is a perpetual fight between husband and wife.

Don't think that you have a right to have affairs with men because your husband has affairs with women. Your child should have at least one decent parent. DOROTHY DIX.

The stars presage the endurance of romance and good prospects for financial success. Engagements to marry announced under this sway promise good fortune. Although an extraordinary number of summer romances will come to naught, lasting partnerships in marriage will be the lot of surviving lovers. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of new friendships and varied pleasures. Accidents affecting business or financial resources are foreseen. Children born on this day probably will be gifted in music or the arts. Subjects of this sign of Libra may reach fame in more than one field of endeavor.

DECIDING FATE OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA—AND PEACE OR WAR FOR EUROPE—This radiophoto of the second Chamberlain-Hitler conference catches the entire significance of the historic trend of events in Europe during the last few turbulent weeks. Adolf Hitler—the one-time house painter who now looms as the most powerful personality in the world—is talking with Neville Chamberlain, Prime Minister of the once-omnipotent British Empire, at Godesberg on the Rhine. Hitler's increased demands on Czechoslovakia were believed to have brought Europe to another war crisis. In this photo radioed from London, Chamberlain is on the left, Hitler at right of their interpreter, Dr. Paul Schmidt.

CZECHS ON THE MARCH—Now fully mobilized, Czechoslovakia has 1,500,000 men like the above under arms, ready to fight, if called on, against Hitler's demands.

GERMANS VIEW THEIR ARMED FORCES—This parade of 120,000 Storm Troopers and Black Guards in Nuremberg recently is typical of the army Germany is reported ready to put in the field to back up Hitler's demand for annexation of Sudeten German territory in Czechoslovakia. Many thousands of them are now massed in German border regions near Czechoslovakia.

FORCED TO REST—With the tension in Central Europe today reaching new heights, a figure on the sidelines was Field Marshal Herman Goering. Official announcement in Nuremberg recently that the No. 2 Nazi must have absolute rest for several days surprised Germany. He was stated to be suffering from a leg ailment and catarrh of the throat. The picture shows him as he recently addressed the Nazi Party Congress at Nuremberg.

WHERE LEADERS MET—The little Rhine town of Godesberg, pictured above, popular German watering place, was the place where the second meeting between Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain, and Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler took place. Today's dispatches indicate the peace which Mr. Chamberlain was seeking is far from accomplishment.

ON GUARD—Rifle slung from his shoulder and his heavy sabre at his side, water in his canteen, blanket on his pommel and saddle-bags fat with equipment, this Czech cavalry trooper is Rodin's "Thinker" in modern style. Ready for instant service, he sits in statuesque pose.

CAVALRY PATROLS—While the world watches the last-minute efforts of European statesmen to preserve peace, little Czechoslovakia goes ahead with preparations to defend itself from invasion. Above is a cavalry detachment of reservists riding through a forest.

Europe's drift to war.

APPEAL FOR PEACE—President Roosevelt (right) shown above with Secretary of State Cordell Hull, today sent a dramatic message, urging peace, to Germany and Czechoslovakia. Secretary Hull transmitted the same message from Washington to Britain and France, which have replied.
